2020 NHL DRAFT LOTTERY RESULTS

The 2020 NHL Draft Lottery awarded the top three selections in the 2020 NHL Draft presented by EA SPORTS NHL 21 to the New York Rangers, Los Angeles Kings and Ottawa Senators, respectively.

Phase 1 of the 2020 NHL Draft Lottery – held June 26 at NHL Network’s Secaucus, N.J., studio – consisted of three draws: the First Draw (1st overall pick), Second Draw (2nd overall pick) and Third Draw (3rd overall pick).

Fifteen teams were eligible in Phase 1: the seven teams that did not resume the 2019-20 season – ranked in inverse order of their points percentages at the time of the pause – and eight ‘placeholders’ that represented to-be-determined Qualifying Round teams that ultimately failed to advance to the First Round of the 2020 Stanley Cup Playoffs. This format maintained previously established odds for the Draft Lottery.

For each of the three drawings, 14 balls, numbered 1 to 14, were placed in a lottery machine. The machine randomly selected four balls. The resulting four-number series (without regard to selection order) was matched against a chart that showed all possible combinations and the teams to which each was assigned.

The First Draw winner was ‘Team E’ – one of the eight ‘placeholders’ with a 2.5-percent likelihood – with the four-digit combination (2-9-10-11).

The Kings, with a 9.7-percent likelihood, won the Second Draw for the second overall selection with the four-digit combination (3-5-9-13).

The Senators, with a position previously acquired in a trade with the San Jose Sharks, won the Third Draw with the four-digit combination (3-11-12-14). They had a 28.4-percent likelihood for selection (15.3% from owning the No. 2 position and another 13.1% from owning the No. 3 position).

Phase 2 of the 2020 NHL Draft Lottery was held Aug. 10 at NHL Network’s Secaucus, N.J. studio, following the conclusion of the 2020 Stanley Cup Qualifiers.

Phase 2 consisted of a single drawing, with all participants being represented in the lottery machine by one ball with their team logo and receiving the same probability of being selected (12.5%). The machine randomly selected one ball, which belonged to the Rangers.

2020 NHL DRAFT QUICK HITS

* This will mark the first time the NHL Draft has been held midweek (days other than Friday, Saturday or Sunday) since the 1994 event at the Hartford Civic Center, which took place from Tuesday, June 28 – Wednesday, June 29, 1994.

* Holding a non-weekend draft was a common occurrence in the early days of the event. The first 21 years of the NHL Draft, from 1963-83, saw prospects picked on days outside of the Friday to Sunday window.

* The Rangers have made the first overall selection once in NHL Draft history (Andre Veilleux in 1965) but will have the opportunity to do so for the first time since the universal draft was adopted in 1969 (all juniors of qualifying age eligible for selection).

* This marks the second consecutive year that the Rangers have held a top-two selection after drafting Kaapo Kakko No. 2 overall in 2019. Aside from Kakko, the only other pick the Rangers have made among the top five over the last 50 years was Pavel Brendl (No. 4 in 1999).

* After selecting Alex Turcotte fifth overall in 2019, the Kings (at No. 2) hold a top-10 pick in consecutive years for the first time since a three-year stretch that saw them select Thomas Hickey in 2007 (No. 4), Drew Doughty in 2008 (No. 2) and Brayden Schenn in 2009 (No. 5).

* The Senators enter the 2020 NHL Draft with three picks in the first round, including a pair in the top five (Nos. 3, 5 and 28). It will mark the eighth time since the universal draft was adopted in 1969 that a team has selected twice in the top five:

TEAM	YEAR	PICK	PICK
ISLANDERS	2000	RICK DIPIETRO, 1 ST	RAFFI TORRES, 5 TH
CANUCKS	1999	DANIEL SEDIN, 2 ND	HENRIK SEDIN, 3 RD

#NHLSTATS

* Ottawa has selected among the top five on seven occasions, but just twice in the last 20 years: Brady Tkachuk (No. 4 in 2018) and Jason Spezza (No. 2 in 2001).

* The Red Wings are set to select among the top 10 for the fourth straight year after going 25 years without a top-10 pick between Martin Lapointe in 1991 (No. 10) and Michael Rasmussen in 2017 (No. 9). Their No. 4 slot in 2020 is the highest they will pick since 1990 (Keith Primeau: No. 3).

* The Senators lead all teams with 12 picks, including two in the top five and seven in the opening two rounds (3 in Round 1, 4 in Round 2). The most picks by any team through two rounds of an NHL Draft is seven, by the Avalanche in 1998 (7 of 58 total selections through two rounds) and by the Canadiens in 1974 (7 of 36 total selections through two rounds). Since the NHL Draft went to seven rounds in 2005, only three teams have made more than 12 selections in the same draft; the Panthers were the last to do so in 2010, selecting Nick Bjugstad with the second of their 13 picks.

* The Ducks have selected sixth overall or higher seven times in 27 drafts since entering the League in 1993-94, including only twice since 2005 – they chose Bobby Ryan second overall that year and Hampus Lindholm at No. 6 in 2012.

* After having only one top-10 pick over an 18-year span from 1997 to 2014 (Adam Larsson: No. 4 in 2011), the Devils (at No. 7) are on track to select among the top 10 for the fourth time in six drafts since 2015.

* After choosing no higher than 12th for nine years from 2004 to 2012, the Sabres (at No. 8) are on track to select among the top 10 for an eighth consecutive year. Four teams have selected in the top 10 of eight consecutive drafts: the Canadiens (13; 1963-75), Maple Leafs (10; 1981-90), Blue Jackets (9; 2000-08) and Oilers (8; 2009-16).

* The Wild (at No. 9) own a top-10 draft pick for the ninth time since entering the League in 2000-01 and for the first time since 2012, when they selected Matt Dumba seventh overall.

* The Jets (at No. 10) hold a top-10 draft pick for the fifth time since relocating to Winnipeg for the 2011-12 season, with each of the previous four playing significant time with the team: Mark Scheifele (No. 7 in 2011), the first draft pick by the Jets after their move, leads the team in goals over the past seven seasons; Jacob Trouba (No. 9 in 2012) played 408 regular-season games with Winnipeg before being traded at the 2019 NHL Draft; Nikolaj Ehlers (No. 9 in 2014) ranks fourth on the Jets in goals since 2015-16; and Patrik Laine (No. 2 in 2016) is the team's top goal-scorer since entering the League in 2016-17.

* Left wing Alexis Lafreniere (Saint-Eustache, Que.) of the QMJHL's Rimouski Oceanic ranks No. 1 among North American skaters for the 2020 NHL Draft. Lafreniere led all QMJHL skaters in assists and points with 35-77—112 in 52 games in 2019-20.

* Entering the 2020 NHL Draft, the most recent Canadian-born player selected first overall was Connor McDavid in 2015 by the Oilers. The four consecutive drafts without a Canadian player being picked first overall is the longest such stretch in NHL history.

* Overall, 40 of 57 No. 1 overall picks have been Canadian-born players (70.2%). However, that number drops to 50 percent over the last 10 years (5 of 10).

* No. 5-ranked North American skater Cole Perfetti ranked second in OHL scoring with 37-74—111 in 61 games in 2019-20. Only one player in Saginaw Spirit history has been taken in the first round of the NHL Draft since the team relocated there prior to the 2002-03 season: Matt Corrente in 2006 (No. 30 by NJD).

* No. 6-ranked North American skater Marco Rossi (Feldkirch, Austria) of the Ottawa 67's led all players in the Canadian Hockey League (OHL, QMJHL and WHL) in assists and points with 39-81—120 in 56 games in 2019-20. Rossi can become the fifth Austrian-born player selected in the first round of the NHL Draft; he would join Thomas Vanek in 2003 (No. 5 by BUF), Michael Grabner in 2006 (No. 14 by VAN), and both Andre Burakovsky (No. 23 by WSH) and Marko Dano (No. 27 by CBJ) in 2013.

* Rossi's teammate in Ottawa is No. 7-ranked North American skater Jack Quinn (52-37—89 in 62 GP), one of two OHL players who scored 50 goals in 2019-20. The other was Nick Robertson (55), who was selected by the Maple Leafs in the second round (53rd overall) of the 2019 NHL Draft.

NOTABLE TEAM PICKS IN 2020 ROUND 1 DRAFT SLOT(S)

As of 2 p.m. ET on Oct. 2

No. 1 – New York Rangers

The Rangers have made the first overall selection once in NHL Draft history (Andre Veilleux in 1965) but will have the opportunity to do so for the first time since the universal draft was adopted in 1969 (all juniors of qualifying age eligible for selection).

No. 2 – Los Angeles Kings

The Kings have picked in the No. 2 slot three times previously, with all selected players going on to appear in more than 500 career NHL games: Doug Smith in 1981 (115-138—253 in 535 GP), Jimmy Carson in 1986 (275-286—561 in 626 GP) and Drew Doughty in 2008 (117-385—502 in 919 GP). Doughty has anchored Los Angeles' blue line since 2008-09, helping the franchise win its first two Stanley Cups (2012 and 2014) and earning the Norris Trophy in 2015-16.

No. 3 – Ottawa Senators (from San Jose Sharks)

The Senators held the No. 3 selection once previously, drafting center Radek Bonk in 1994. Bonk ranks among the top 10 on the franchise's all-time list for regular-season games (5th; 689), goals (7th; 152), assists (6th; 247) and points (6th; 399).

No. 4 – Detroit Red Wings

The Red Wings have selected in the No. 4 slot twice previously, choosing Fred Williams in 1976 and current general manager and franchise icon Steve Yzerman in 1983. Yzerman spent his entire 22-season playing career with Detroit, including 20 years as team captain, recording 692-1,063—1,755 in 1,514 regular-season games and leading the franchise to three Stanley Cups (1997, 1998 and 2002). Only one player other than Yzerman taken with the No. 4 pick has gone on to record at least 1,700 NHL points: Ron Francis (549-1,249-1,798 in 1,731 GP), selected fourth overall by the Whalers in 1981.

No. 5 – Ottawa Senators

The Senators never have selected fifth overall.

No. 6 – Anaheim Ducks

The Ducks have selected sixth overall once previously, taking current defenseman Hampus Lindholm in 2012. Lindholm has skated in more than 500 games for Anaheim spanning seven seasons (50-144—194 in 502 GP); his career +75 rating is higher than any defenseman in franchise history.

No. 7 – New Jersey Devils

The Devils franchise never has selected seventh overall.

No. 8 – Buffalo Sabres

This will mark the fourth time that the Sabres select in the No. 8 slot, with each such pick coming in the last seven years – they drafted defenseman Rasmus Ristolainen in 2013 and forwards Alexander Nylander in 2016 and Casey Mittelstadt in 2017. Ristolainen ranks eighth in career points by a Buffalo defenseman (42-185—227 in 493 GP), one back of former Sabres coach Jim Schoenfeld (45-183—228 in 584 GP) for seventh place.

No. 9 – Minnesota Wild

The Wild have drafted in the No. 9 slot on two previous occasions, selecting forwards James Sheppard in 2006 and Mikael Granlund in 2010. Granlund, who was traded to the Predators on Feb. 25, 2019, after seven seasons with Minnesota, is one of seven players who has collected 300 regular-season points as a member of the Wild.

No. 10 – Winnipeg Jets

The Jets/Thrashers franchise has picked No. 10 once previously, selecting defenseman Boris Valabik in 2004. Valabik appeared in 80 games for the Thrashers from 2007-08 to 2009-10, registering seven assists and 210 penalty minutes. Of note, the original Winnipeg Jets (now the Coyotes) picked 10th overall once, selecting Teemu Selanne in 1988. Playing with the original Jets in 1992-93, Selanne set the single-season NHL records for goals (76) and points (132) by a rookie.

No. 11 – Nashville Predators

No. 15 – Toronto Maple Leafs (from Pittsburgh Penguins)

This will mark the third time the Maple Leafs have selected 15th overall – they used the two previous occasions to draft defensemen Ian Turnbull in 1973 and Jeff Ware in 1995. Turnbull holds the NHL record for most goals in one game by a defenseman after scoring five times for Toronto in a 9-1 win over the Red Wings on Feb. 2, 1977.

No. 16 – Montreal Canadiens

The Canadiens have picked at No. 16 three times before, selecting forwards Tom Chorske (1985), Eric Chouinard (1998) and Marcel Hossa (2000) – none of the three reached 100 regular-season games with the franchise and each eventually was traded by Montreal. The Chorske trade ahead of the 1991-92 season led to a Stanley Cup for both teams involved – Montreal acquired Kirk Muller, who was part of its 1993 championship, while Chorske was dealt to New Jersey, where he won the Stanley Cup in 1995.

Daneyko appeared in more games in the regular season (1,283) and playoffs (175) than any player in franchise history and was a contributor to all three of New Jersey's Stanley Cup championships in 1995, 2000 and 2003. The Rangers have selected 22nd overall on three prior occasions, choosing forwards Troy Mallette in 1988 and Jeff Brown in 1996 and current prospect K'Andre Miller in 2018. To date, Mallette is the only of the three to appear in an NHL game – he played nine seasons in the NHL from 1989-90 to 1997-98, including 150 with the Rangers (25-26—51), before returning to his hometown of Sudbury, Ont., to become a firefighter. Mallette retired from the fire department earlier this year.

No. 23 – Philadelphia Flyers

The Flyers have picked in the No. 23 spot on two prior occasions, selecting defenseman Tom Bladon in 1972 and left wing Jukka Seppo in 1986. * In 1963, the NHL started phasing out Member Clubs' sponsorship of junior teams and amateur players. From 1963-68, the NHL conducted an annual Amateur Draft, allowing for the selection of those junior players who did not already appear on an NHL team's sponsored list. The 1969 NHL Draft marked the first year that the effects of NHL amateur sponsorship were not seen, as every junior of qualifying age (20 years) was available for selection. In 1979, the name of the draft was changed from 'Amateur' to 'Entry' to reflect the inclusion of young players eligible for selection who had played professionally in the now-defunct World Hockey Association.
