ART ROSS TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1947-48, the Art Ross Trophy is presented annually “to the player who leads the League in scoring points at the end of the regular season.”

History

Arthur Howey Ross, former manager-coach of the Boston Bruins, presented the Art Ross Trophy to the NHL in 1948. If two or more players finish the regular season with the same number of points, the trophy is awarded based on the following tiebreakers: 1. Player with the most goals, 2. Player with fewer games played, 3. Player scoring first goal of the season.

2023-24 Winner

Tampa Bay Lightning right wing Nikita Kucherov posted a franchise-record 144 points (44-100—144 in 81 GP) – the second-most by any player over the past 28 years – to finish four ahead of second-place Nathan MacKinnon of the Colorado Avalanche (51-89—140 in 82 GP) and earn his second Art Ross Trophy, following the 2018-19 campaign (41-87—128 in 82 GP). Kucherov became the second Lightning player to claim the award multiple times, joining Martin St. Louis (2012-13 and 2003-04), and the fourth active player with multiple wins, after Connor McDavid (5x), Sidney Crosby (2x) and Evgeni Malkin (2x). Kucherov factored on exactly half of Tampa Bay’s 288 total goals (excluding shootout-deciding goals), marking the 12th instance in NHL history of a player registering points on at least 50 percent of his team’s scoring within a single season – and just the third occasion this century, after McDavid with the Edmonton Oilers in both 2020-21 (57.4%) and 2018-19 (50.7%). Kucherov finished 54 points ahead of his closest teammate (Brayden Point: 46-44—90 in 81 GP), the largest gap between a team’s top two scorers since the 2000-01 Florida Panthers (55: Pavel Bure: 59-33—92 in 82 GP and Viktor Kozlov: 14-23—37 in 51 GP). Kucherov capped 2023-24 by becoming the fifth different player in NHL history – and first winger – to produce 100 assists in one season (April 17 vs. TOR). Overall, Kucherov found the scoresheet in 68 of his 81 appearances (84.0%), totaling 41 multi-point performances (t-2nd in the NHL), 23 three-point efforts (1st in the NHL and the most by any player since 1995-96) and eight games with at least four points (t-1st in the NHL).

BILL MASTERTON MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1967-68, the Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the player who best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey.”

Voting

Local chapters of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit nominations for the Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

The Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy was presented by the NHL Writers’ Association in 1968 to commemorate the late Bill Masterton, a player with the Minnesota North Stars who exhibited to a high degree the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey and who died on Jan. 15, 1968, as a result of an on-ice injury.

Bill Masterton Memorial Scholarship Fund

A $2,500 grant from the PHWA is awarded annually to the Bill Masterton Memorial Scholarship Fund, based in Bloomington, Minn., in the name of the trophy winner.

2023-24 Finalists

Frederik Andersen, G, Carolina Hurricanes

Following a 4-1-0 start to the regular season, Andersen was informed doctors had discovered a blood clotting issue affecting the 11-year NHL veteran. He missed 49 games over a four-month span from Nov. 4 to March 7. “It came out of nowhere. There were some symptoms, and that initiated the check-ups,” Andersen told the Raleigh News and Observer. After returning to the lineup - a process complicated by limited access to ice during treatment - Andersen posted a 9-1-0 record, 1.30 goals-against average, .951 save percentage and three shutouts, helping the Hurricanes finish the season third in the NHL overall standings. “I think the story’s not quite done yet with him,” Hurricanes head coach Rod Brind’Amour said. “Hopefully it ends with even something better. But just the fact that he came back ... You take the worst-case scenario out of it, which is he wouldn’t be able to play again, I think that was the worst case that everyone was worried about. So it’s a win, either way.”

Connor Ingram, G, Arizona Coyotes

Ingram nearly retired due to an undiagnosed obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD) and lingering depression before he sought help through the NHL/NHLPA Player Assistance program in 2021, which he credits with turning his life and career around. Claimed off waivers by Arizona in October 2022, Ingram appeared in 27 games for the club in 2022-23 and established himself as the Coyotes top goaltender in 2023-24, posting a 23-21-3 record, 2.91 goals-against average, .907 save percentage and a League-best (tie) six shutouts in 50 appearances. Ingram has shared his story publicly since 2021 and has noted how it has inspired others. “It shows that while you have dark days in your life, there’s always a way out and there’s always a light at the end of the tunnel,” Ingram told PHNX Sports. “But this is not for me. It’s so other people can say ‘Hey, man, look. Life sucks right now, but let’s figure it out.’ I think this is a great way to prove you can get through it and you can do it. So why not try?”

Oliver Kylington, D, Calgary Flames

Kylington returned to the Flames lineup in late January after more than a year and a half away from the team. While Kylington has preferred not to share all the details of his extended absence for mental-health reasons, the 2nd-round pick by Calgary in the 2015 NHL Draft revealed as he returned to action that he’d worried he may not be able to resume his promising career. Kylington, who continued to work with Flames’ support staff through his time away from the game, again became a fixture on Calgary’s blueline, skating an average of 17:15 in 33 games. His comeback has inspired and provided hope for many facing their own mental-health challenges. “Everyone’s journey is very individual. It’s very personal. You can take bits and bites of my story, and that can maybe help someone,” Kylington told the Calgary Herald. “But at the end of the day, as an individual, you have to do the work yourself and face your problems, your individual problems, and do that journey yourself.”

CALDER MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1932-33, the Calder Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the player selected as the most proficient in his first year of competition.”

Voting

Members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit ballots for the Calder Memorial Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

From 1936-37 until his death in 1943, NHL President Frank Calder purchased a trophy each year to be given permanently to the League’s outstanding rookie. After Calder’s death, the NHL presented the Calder Memorial Trophy in his memory.

Eligibility

To be eligible for the Calder Memorial Trophy, a player cannot have played more than 25 games in any single preceding season nor in six or more games in each of any two preceding seasons in any major professional league. Beginning in 1990-91, a player must not have attained his 26th birthday by Sept. 15 of the season in which he is eligible.

2023-24 Finalists

Connor Bedard, C, Chicago Blackhawks

Bedard led or co-led both rookies and the Blackhawks in goals (22), assists (39) and points (61) despite missing 14 games due to injury (68 GP). At 18 years, 276 days on the final day of the campaign, he became the second-youngest player in League history to finish as the rookie leader, outright or tied, in all three categories – behind Nathan MacKinnon in 2013-14 (18 years, 224 days; 24-39—63 in 82 GP w/ COL) – as well as the second-youngest rookie in NHL history to achieve the feat for his team – after Sidney Crosby in 2005-06 (18 years, 254 days; 39-63—102 in 81 GP w/ PIT). The No. 1 overall pick from the 2023 NHL Draft also became the third-youngest player in League history to score a regular-season overtime goal (Dec. 27 vs. WPG) and the fifth 18-year-old to post a five-point performance (March 12 vs. ANA). Bedard additionally finished among the 2023-24 rookie leaders in shots on goal (1st; 206), takeaways (1st; 47), power-play assists (2nd; 17), power-play points (2nd; 21), power-play goals (t-2nd; 4), game-winning goals (t-4th; 2) and total time on ice (6th; 1,345:16). He is seeking to become the 10th Chicago player to win the Calder Trophy and first since Artemi Panarin in 2015-16.

Brock Faber, D, Minnesota Wild

Faber, the 45th overall selection from the 2020 NHL Draft (by LAK), placed third among rookies with 8-39—47 while skating in all 82 contests. He topped rookies in both average (24:58) and total (2,047:53) time on ice – the latter nearly 300 minutes more than the next-closest player and the highest single-season figure by a rookie since the statistic began being recorded in 1997-98. Faber also ranked among the top 2023-24 rookie performers in blocked shots (1st; 150), assists (t-1st; 39), power-play assists (3rd; 13), power-play points (3rd; 16), power-play goals (t-6th; 3) and shots on goal (8th; 136). He set single-season franchise records for assists by a rookie (ahead of Calen Addison’s 26 in 2022-23) and points by a rookie defenseman (besting Filip Kuba’s 30 in 2000-01), while also establishing a team mark for the longest point streak by a rookie blueliner (Jan. 15-25: 2-7—9 in 6 GP). The 21-year-old Faber is the second player in Wild history who has been voted as a finalist for the Calder Trophy and is vying to join teammate Kirill Kaprizov (2020-21) as a winner.

Luke Hughes, D, New Jersey Devils

Hughes finished second among rookies with 9-38—47 while also appearing in all 82 games. His 47 points marked the second-most by a rookie defenseman in franchise history (behind Barry Beck’s 60 in 1977-78 w/ CLR), while his 38 assists shared second place (after Will Butcher’s 39 in 2017-18). Hughes also topped all 2023-24 rookies, forwards and defensemen, with 21 power-play assists and 25 power-play points – the most by a rookie blueliner in either category since his oldest brother Quinn Hughes posted 22 and 25, respectively, in 2019-20 (w/ VAN). The fourth overall pick from the 2021 NHL Draft additionally finished among the 2023-24 rookie leaders in total time on ice (2nd; 1,760:50), takeaways (2nd; 42), power-play goals (t-2nd; 4), assists (3rd; 38) and shots on goal (9th; 135). The 20-year-old Hughes, the Devils’ first Calder Trophy finalist since Adam Henrique placed third in voting in 2011-12, is looking to join Scott Gomez (1999-00) and Martin Brodeur (1993-94) as the third winner in franchise history. He also follows his brother Quinn (2nd in 2019-20) as a Calder Trophy finalist, making the duo the first brothers in NHL history voted as finalists for the award.

E.J. McGUIRE AWARD OF EXCELLENCE

Description

First awarded in 2014-15, the E.J. McGuire Award of Excellence is presented annually “to the NHL Draft prospect who best exemplifies commitment to excellence through strength of character, competitiveness and athleticism.”

History

After many years of coaching and scouting at various levels of hockey, E.J. McGuire joined the NHL’s Central Scouting Bureau in 2002 and assumed day-to-day responsibility for the department in 2005. McGuire spearheaded an operation that provided scouting and evaluation of draft-eligible players to NHL Member Clubs. He led a team of eight full-time and 15 part-time scouts throughout North America. Just as he brought innovation to the coaching profession throughout his career, McGuire was responsible for several advancements in the area of scouting during his nine years at the League, including the development of a new scouting technology system that brought the “art” of scouting to a whole new level. He was instrumental in raising both the effectiveness and profile of the League’s annual scouting combine. McGuire lost his short, but courageous, battle with cancer in April 2011.

FRANK J. SELKE TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1977-78, the Frank J. Selke Trophy is presented annually “to the forward who best excels in the defensive aspects of the game.”

Voting

Members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit ballots for the Frank J. Selke Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

The Frank J. Selke Trophy was presented in 1977 by the NHL’s Board of Governors in honor of Frank J. Selke, one of the great architects of Montreal and Toronto’s championship teams.

2023-24 Finalists

Aleksander Barkov, C, Florida Panthers

Barkov was a key contributor to the Atlantic Division champion Panthers finishing the season tied for first place in the NHL in goals-against per game (2.41, excluding two GA for shootout losses). It also marked the lowest such figure in franchise history, topping the 2.44 set in 2015-16. Barkov took a team-leading 1,100 face-offs and posted a win rate of 57.3%, ranking ninth in the NHL (min. 50 GP/500 face-offs). He placed fifth among NHL forwards in plus-minus with a +33 rating, the second-highest figure in his 11-year NHL career. The puck was in the offensive zone for 46.3% of the time Barkov was on the ice at even strength according to NHL EDGE tracking data, ranking in the 97th percentile among NHL skaters, and in the defensive zone for just 35.3% of the time (97th percentile). The Panthers captain is a Selke Trophy finalist for the third time in the past four seasons. He became the first Selke winner in franchise history in 2020-21 and placed third in voting in 2021-22.

Auston Matthews, C, Toronto Maple Leafs

Matthews, who already has claimed the 2023-24 Maurice Richard Trophy as the League’s leading goal-scorer during the regular season (69), is the first Richard winner also voted a Selke finalist in the same season. Also voted a finalist for the Lady Byng Trophy, Matthews ranked second among all NHL forwards in takeaways (85), tied for second in blocked shots (93), was fifth in even-strength total ice time (1,364:28) and seventh in plus-minus (+31). He skated 281.48 miles this season according to NHL EDGE tracking data, in the 98th percentile among NHL skaters, with the puck in the defensive zone just 38.1% of the time Matthews was on the ice at even strength (87th percentile). Matthews is a Selke finalist for the first time and the second Maple Leafs player among the final three in as many seasons, following Mitch Marner’s 3rd-place finish in 2022-23. He is vying to become the second Maple Leafs player to win the Selke, following franchise legend Doug Gilmour in 1992-93.

Jordan Staal, C, Carolina Hurricanes

Staal led all Hurricanes forwards in shorthanded ice time (168:58) for the NHL’s top penalty-killing unit (86.4%). He took a team-leading 1,375 face-offs and won 58.1% of them, the sixth-best percentage in the League (min. 50 GP/500 face-offs), taking 89% more face-offs in the defensive zone (581) than the offensive zone (308). The Hurricanes captain ranked second among NHL forwards in the puck possession metric SAT% (min. 50 GP, 61.9%), with Carolina accounting for 61.9% of all shot attempts 5-on-5 when Staal was on the ice. This marks Staal’s second career nod as a Selke finalist, the first coming in 2009-10 (PIT, 3rd). The 14-year gap between Selke finalist berths is the longest in NHL history for a single voted award, four years more than the decade between Hart Trophy finalist spots for Tony Esposito (1969-70, 1979-80) and Patrick Roy (1991-92, 2001-02). Staal is the first Hurricanes finalist for the Selke since his current head coach Rod Brind’Amour collected the second of back-to-back wins in 2006-07.

HART MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1923-24, the Hart Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the player adjudged to be the most valuable to his team.”

Voting

Members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit ballots for the Hart Memorial Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

The Hart Memorial Trophy was presented by the NHL in 1960 after the original Hart Trophy was retired to the Hockey Hall of Fame. The original Hart Trophy was donated to the League in 1924 by Dr. David A. Hart, father of Cecil Hart, former manager-coach of the Montreal Canadiens.

2023-24 Finalists

Nikita Kucherov, RW, Tampa Bay Lightning

Kucherov paced the NHL and set a franchise record with 44-100—144 (81 GP) – the second-most points by any player over the past 28 years – to capture his second career Art Ross Trophy (also 2018-19) and propel the Lightning to their seventh consecutive playoff berth. He factored on exactly half of Tampa Bay’s 288 total goals (excluding shootout-deciding goals), marking the 12th instance in League history of a player registering points on at least 50 percent of his team’s scoring within a single season – and just the third occasion this century, after Connor McDavid with the Edmonton Oilers in both 2020-21 (57.4%) and 2018-19 (50.7%). Kucherov finished 54 points ahead of his closest teammate (Brayden Point: 46-44—90 in 81 GP), the largest gap between a team’s top two scorers since the 2000-01 Florida Panthers (55: Pavel Bure: 59-33—92 in 82 GP and Viktor Kozlov: 14-23—37 in 51 GP). Kucherov, who capped 2023-24 by becoming the fifth different player in NHL history – and first winger – to produce 100 assists in one season (tied for the League lead with McDavid), also ranked among the top performers in power-play assists (1st; 40), power-play points (1st; 53), three-point games (1st; 23 – the most by any player since 1995-96), four-point games (t-1st; 8), multi-point games (t-2nd; 41), shots on goal (8th; 306) and goals (10th; 44). The 30-year-old Kucherov – a finalist for the second time after capturing the award in 2018-19 – is seeking to become the fourth active player with multiple Hart Trophy wins, following McDavid (3x), Alex Ovechkin (3x) and Sidney Crosby (2x).

Nathan MacKinnon, C, Colorado Avalanche

MacKinnon ranked second in the NHL and established a franchise record with 51-89—140 (82 GP) – just the fifth 140-point campaign over the past 30 years – to guide the Avalanche to their seventh straight playoff appearance. He set career highs in goals and assists, becoming the sixth different player in Avalanche/Nordiques history to produce a 50-goal season and trailing only Peter Stastny (93 in 1981-82) for the franchise’s most helpers in a single campaign. MacKinnon, who found the scoresheet in a League-high 69 appearances (84.1%), also set personal bests and ranked among the 2023-24 leaders in even-strength points (1st; 92), multi-point games (1st; 44), shots on goal (1st; 405), power-play assists (2nd; 38), power-play points (2nd; 48) and plus/minus (t-6th; +35). His totals were aided by a 35-game point streak at Ball Arena to begin the season (Oct. 19 – March 26: 29-48—77), the second-longest home scoring streak in NHL history behind only Wayne Gretzky’s unblemished 1988-89 home campaign (33-70—103 in 40 GP w/ LAK). MacKinnon additionally became the first player in League history to record two separate overall point streaks of at least 19 contests within the same season, doing so Nov. 20 – Dec. 27 (13-23—36 in 19 GP) and Feb. 13 – March 26 (13-25—38 in 19 GP). The 28-year-old MacKinnon – a Hart Trophy finalist for the fourth time after finishing third in voting in 2020-21, second in 2019-20 and second in 2017-18 – is vying to join Peter Forsberg (2002-03) and Joe Sakic (2000-01) as the third player in Avalanche/Nordiques history to win the award.

Connor McDavid, C, Edmonton Oilers

McDavid, the reigning Hart Trophy winner, finished third in the League with 32-100—132 (76 GP) to power the Oilers to their fifth straight postseason appearance despite a 2-9-1 start to the season. He became the sixth player in NHL history to register at least seven 100-point campaigns and the first to reach the milestone in four or more consecutive seasons since 1992-93, when Steve Yzerman (6) and Brett Hull (4) both achieved the feat. McDavid also became the first player to produce back-to-back 130-point campaigns since Mario Lemieux in 1991-92 and 1992-93, and the first to record at least 120 points in three consecutive since Wayne Gretzky ended a run of 13 straight in 1991-92. McDavid, who – at 1.52 – owns the third-highest points per game rate in League history (minimum: 500 GP) behind Gretzky (1.92) and Lemieux (1.88), became the fifth-fastest player to reach the 900-point milestone (602 GP: Jan. 2 vs. PHI) and the fourth-fastest to accumulate 600 career assists (616 GP: Feb. 13 vs. DET). He added to his outstanding campaign by becoming the fourth different player in NHL history (and first since Gretzky in 1990-91) to collect 100 assists in a season (April 15 vs. SJS) – a milestone later matched by Nikita Kucherov. The 27-year-old McDavid – a three-time winner (2022-23, 2020-21 and 2016-17) and finalist for the sixth time in his nine NHL seasons – is looking to become the fourth player with at least four Hart Trophies, following Gretzky (9x), Gordie Howe (6x) and Eddie Shore (4x). McDavid also is seeking to become the first back-to-back winner since Alex Ovechkin in 2007-08 and 2008-09.

JACK ADAMS AWARD

Description

First awarded in 1973-74, the Jack Adams Award is presented annually “to the coach adjudged to have contributed the most to his team’s success.”

Voting

Members of the NHL Broadcasters’ Association submit ballots for the Jack Adams Award at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

The Jack Adams Award was presented by the NHL Broadcasters’ Association in 1974 in honor of the late Jack Adams, longtime coach and general manager of the Detroit Red Wings.

2023-24 Finalists

Rick Bowness, Winnipeg Jets

Bowness, in his second season with the Jets, guided Winnipeg (52-24-6, 110 points) to the second-highest regular-season points total in franchise history and fourth place in the NHL overall standings. They tied a franchise record for wins (52), set a franchise best for road wins (25) and allowed the fewest goals in the League (199, including one GA for a shootout loss). It marked the first time in Jets/Thrashers history the club had allowed fewer than 200 goals over a full-length season. The Jets posted an eight-game winning streak for the first time ever (Dec. 30 - Jan. 11), part of a franchise-record 14-game point streak (12-0-2) that lifted the club to first overall in the NHL at the season’s midpoint. They repeated the feat by winning their final eight games of the regular season (April 1-18). Bowness, who completed his 14th NHL season as a head coach and 36th as a head or assistant, is a Jack Adams finalist for the first time. He also is the first Jack Adams finalist for the Jets/Thrashers franchise.

Andrew Brunette, Nashville Predators

In his first season coaching the Predators (47-30-5, 99 points), Brunette led Nashville back to the postseason after an eight-season playoff streak was snapped in 2022-23. Keying the revival was a franchise-record 18-game point streak from Feb. 17-March 26 (16-0-2), the longest point streak in the NHL this season and the longest since Colorado (17-0-2) in 2021-22. The Predators outscored their opponents 74-33 in that span, tallied the most goals per game (4.11) and allowed the fewest (1.83). Brunette is a Jack Adams finalist for the second time in as many seasons as an NHL head coach, following a second-place finish with the Florida Panthers in 2021-22. Only two others have been voted finalists in each of their first two seasons behind an NHL bench: Terry Crisp (CGY, 2nd in 1987-88 and 3rd in 1988-89) and Paul MacLean (OTT, 3rd in 2011-12 and 1st in 2012-13). Brunette is the third Jack Adams finalist in Predators history, joining Barry Trotz (2nd in 2009-10, 3rd in 2010-11) and Peter Laviolette (3rd in 2014-15).

Rick Tocchet, Vancouver Canucks

Tocchet, in his first full season behind the Vancouver bench, led the club to one of its finest regular seasons, capturing the Pacific Division title and No. 3 seed in the Western Conference with their third-highest point total (50-23-9, 109 pts). The Canucks made dramatic gains over 2022-23 in several categories, climbing from 22nd to sixth in the overall NHL standings; from 26th to 4th in points earned at home (40 to 59); from 25th to 5th (tie) in average goals-against per game (3.61 to 2.70) and from 32nd to 17th in penalty-killing percentage (71.6% to 79.1%). They posted the NHL’s best goal differential in the first period (+38) and excelled late as well, going 42-1-4 when leading after two periods -- the most such wins in the League and double their total from 2022-23 (21-1-4). Tocchet, a first-time Jack Adams finalist, aims to become the third winner in Canucks history, following Pat Quinn in 1991-92 and Alain Vigneault in 2006-07. He is the club’s first finalist for this award since Vigneault finished second in 2010-11.

JAMES NORRIS MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1953-54, the James Norris Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the defense player who demonstrates throughout the season the greatest all-round ability in the position.”

Voting

Members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit ballots for the James Norris Memorial Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

The James Norris Memorial Trophy was presented in 1953 by the four children of the late James Norris in memory of the former owner-president of the Detroit Red Wings.

2023-24 Finalists

Quinn Hughes, Vancouver Canucks

Hughes, in his first season as Vancouver’s captain, paced defensemen with 75 assists and 92 points (17-75—92 in 82 GP) – both figures franchise records for a blueliner, ahead of the marks he established in 2022-23 (7-69—76 in 78 GP) – to guide the Canucks to their first playoff berth since 2019-20 and first division title since 2012-13. Hughes also ranked among the leading defensemen in power-play assists (1st; 33), power-play points (2nd; 38), plus/minus (4th; +38), goals (t-6th; 17), total time on ice (7th; 2,024:10), shots on goal (9th; 199) and power-play goals (t-9th; 5). He became the eighth-fastest blueliner in NHL history to accumulate 300 career points, doing so in his 331st contest (Jan. 24 vs. STL). Hughes also became the third defenseman in League history – after Paul Coffey and Bobby Orr – to register at least 200 assists over a three-season span, reaching the total April 8 vs. VGK. The 24-year-old Orlando, Fla., native is the first player in Vancouver’s 53-year history who has been voted as a finalist for the Norris Trophy and is seeking to become the fourth U.S.-born player to win the award, following Chris Chelios (3x, last 1995-96), Brian Leetch (2x, last 1996-97) and Adam Fox (2020-21).

Roman Josi, Nashville Predators

Josi led defensemen in goals (23), power-play goals (9) and shots on goal (268) across 82 games (23-62—85) to propel the Predators to their 10th playoff berth in his 13 seasons with the team. His 23 goals equaled a career high, set in 2021-22 (23-73—96 in 80 GP), and marked the most by a blueliner at age 33 or older in NHL history. Josi also finished among the top 2023-24 defensemen in game-winning goals (t-2nd; 5), points (3rd; 85), power-play points (t-4th; 33), assists (5th; 62), power-play assists (7th; 24) and total time on ice (8th; 2,019:45). After a 9-10-0 start to the season, he led all blueliners in goals (20), assists (53) and points (73) as Nashville went 38-20-5 in its final 63 contests (Nov. 26 – April 15), highlighted by a franchise-record 18-game point streak (Feb. 17 – March 26) during which Josi accumulated 8-16—24 and a +22 rating – both tops among defensemen in that span. Josi is a Norris Trophy finalist for the third time, after winning the award in 2019-20 and placing second in voting in 2021-22. At age 33, he is the oldest finalist for the trophy since Mark Giordano (age 35 w/ CGY) and Brent Burns (age 34 w/ SJS) in 2018-19, with Giordano taking home the award that season and Burns finishing second.

Cale Makar, Colorado Avalanche

Makar topped defensemen with 1.17 points per game (21-69—90 in 77 GP) – the third-highest average by a blueliner over the past 30 seasons (minimum: 50 GP) – to power the Avalanche to their seventh consecutive playoff berth. Makar, who set single-season franchise records for assists and points by a defenseman, ranked second among 2023-24 blueliners in goals (21), assists (69) and points (90). He also finished among the leading defensemen in power-play points (1st; 39), shorthanded points (t-1st; 4), power-play assists (2nd; 32), shots on goal (3rd; 231), takeaways (3rd; 70), power-play goals (t-3rd; 7) and average time on ice (9th; 24:46). The 25-year-old Makar registered his 300th point in his 280th contest (Jan. 20 at PHI) to become the second-fastest blueliner in League history to reach the milestone, one game shy of Bobby Orr (279 GP). Makar is a Norris Trophy finalist for the fourth time in his first five NHL seasons, after winning the award in 2021-22, finishing second in 2020-21 and placing third in 2022-23. Only three other players have been voted as a Norris Trophy finalist at least four times within their first five seasons – Orr (5x), Brad Park (4x) and Denis Potvin (4x) – and just two of them have multiple wins within that span – Orr (4x) and Potvin (2x).

KING CLANCY MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1987-88, the King Clancy Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the player who best exemplifies leadership qualities on and off the ice and has made a noteworthy humanitarian contribution in his community.”

Voting

Each NHL team submits a nominee for the King Clancy Memorial Trophy. The winner is selected by a committee consisting of Commissioner Gary Bettman and former winners of the King Clancy Memorial Trophy as well as the NHL Foundation Player Award.

In determining the winner, the selection committee considers the criteria of a nominee’s inspiration, involvement and impact to positively benefit his community.

History

The King Clancy Memorial Trophy was presented in 1988 by the NHL’s Board of Governors in honor of Frank “King” Clancy, a beloved figure in the League for decades as a player, referee, coach, manager and goodwill ambassador. A three-time Stanley Cup champion and 1958 inductee to the Hockey Hall of Fame, Clancy was voted as one of the 100 Greatest NHL Players during the League’s Centennial Celebration in 2017.

Charitable Donations

The King Clancy Memorial Trophy winner receives a $25,000 donation to benefit a charity or charities of his choice. The winner also is eligible to elect that his team receive a grant from the NHL, up to $20,000, to help organize a special activation related to his humanitarian cause.

LADY BYNG MEMORIAL TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1924-25, the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy is presented annually “to the player adjudged to have exhibited the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability.”

Voting

Members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association submit ballots for the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

Lady Byng, wife of Canada’s Governor General at the time, presented the Lady Byng Trophy during the 1924-25 season. After Frank Boucher of the New York Rangers won the award seven times in eight seasons, he was given the trophy to keep and Lady Byng donated another trophy in 1936. After Lady Byng’s death in 1949, the NHL presented a new trophy, changing the name to the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy.

2023-24 Finalists

Auston Matthews, C, Toronto Maple Leafs

Matthews led the League with a franchise-record 69 goals (the most by any player since 1995-96) and finished sixth with 107 points (the most by a Maple Leafs player since 1993-94) to power Toronto to its eighth straight playoff berth since he was selected No. 1 overall in the 2016 NHL Draft. He also ranked among the top 2023-24 performers in takeaways (2nd; 85), shots on goal (3rd; 369), power-play goals (t-5th; 18), game-winning goals (t-11th; 8), shooting percentage (14th; 18.7% – minimum: 1 SOG/GP) and plus/minus (14th; +31). Matthews, who appeared in 81 of 82 possible games, achieved these numbers while placing seventh among forwards in total time on ice (1,698:17) and receiving 20 penalty minutes – the fewest among the League’s top 15 scorers. The 26-year-old Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy winner is a Lady Byng Trophy finalist for the third time, after finishing second in voting in 2019-20 and third in 2020-21. He is vying to become the eighth different player in Maple Leafs history to capture the award and just the second in the expansion era (since 1967-68), following Alexander Mogilny in 2002-03.

Elias Pettersson, C, Vancouver Canucks

Pettersson registered his third consecutive 30-goal campaign to propel the Canucks to the Pacific Division title on the strength of a 50-23-9 record (109 points), their most wins and points in a season since 2011-12 (51-22-9, 111 points). He placed third on Vancouver in goals (34), assists (55) and points (89), while sharing fourth place in the entire NHL with 10 game-winning goals – highlighted by a stretch during which he became the first player in League history to score the decisive tally in four straight road games (Jan. 6-11). Pettersson, who skated in all 82 contests and ranked 19th among forwards in total time on ice (1,611:20), was assessed just six penalties (12 PIM) – the sixth time in as many NHL seasons he has received fewer than 20 penalty minutes. Only one of the League’s top 80 scorers totaled fewer penalty minutes in 2023-24 (Gustav Nyquist: 8 PIM in 81 GP w/ NSH). The 25-year-old Sundsvall, Sweden, native is the first Lady Byng Trophy finalist in Canucks history and is seeking to join William Karlsson (2017-18 w/ VGK) and Mats Naslund (1987-88 w/ MTL) as the third Swedish-born player to capture the award.

Jacob Slavin, D, Carolina Hurricanes

Slavin logged the third-most minutes (1,695:29) and third-highest plus/minus (+21) for a Carolina defense that allowed the fourth-fewest goals in the League (216) en route to its third straight 110-point season and sixth consecutive playoff berth. Slavin, who finished third among Hurricanes blueliners with 6-31—37 (81 GP), surpassed Dave Babych (on Nov. 11 at TBL) and Justin Faulk (on March 10 vs. CGY) to become the franchise’s all-time leader in assists and points, respectively, by a defenseman (49-223—272 in 665 GP). He did so while ranking second among NHL blueliners (and ninth in the entire League) with 71 takeaways and being assessed eight total penalty minutes – the fewest among the NHL’s 81 skaters who played at least 1,600 minutes in 2023-24. The 30-year-old Denver, Colo., native is a Lady Byng Trophy finalist for the third time, after winning the award in 2020-21 and placing second in 2021-22. He is looking to join Red Kelly (3x, last in 1953-54 w/ DET) as the second defenseman and Joe Mullen (2x, last in 1988-89 w/ CGY) as the second U.S.-born player to win the trophy multiple times.

MARK MESSIER NHL LEADERSHIP AWARD

Description

First awarded in 2006-07, the Mark Messier NHL Leadership Award is presented annually “to the player who exemplifies great leadership qualities to his team, on and off the ice, during the regular season and who plays a leading role in his community growing the game of hockey.”

Voting

Mark Messier solicits suggestions from team and League personnel to compile a list of potential candidates for the award. However, the selection of the three finalists and ultimate winner is Messier’s alone.

History

Presented in honor of one of hockey’s great leaders, the Mark Messier NHL Leadership Award was first handed out in 2006-07.

MAURICE “ROCKET” RICHARD TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1998-99, the Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy is presented annually “to the player finishing the regular season as the League’s goal-scoring leader.”

History

A gift to the NHL from the Montreal Canadiens in 1999, the Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy honors one of the game’s greatest stars. During his 18-year career with the Canadiens from 1942-43 through 1959-60, Richard was the first player in NHL history to score 50 goals in a season and 500 in his career. He played on eight Stanley Cup champion teams and led the League in goals five times.

2023-24 Winner

Toronto Maple Leafs center Auston Matthews scored a franchise-record 69 goals (69-38—107 in 81 GP) – the most by any player since 1995-96 – to close the campaign 12 ahead of second-place Sam Reinhart of the Florida Panthers (57-37—94 in 82 GP) and capture his third Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy, after wins in 2021-22 and 2020-21. Matthews became the second player to claim the Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy, first presented in 1998-99, at least three times (after Alex Ovechkin: 9x) and the 12th player in NHL history to outright lead the League in goals on at least three occasions. His 12-goal gap over Reinhart marked the largest by the NHL’s top two goal-scorers since 2007-08, when Ovechkin (65) finished 13 ahead of Ilya Kovalchuk (52). Matthews opened the season by becoming the fifth player in League history – and second since the NHL’s inaugural campaign – to record hat tricks in each of his first two games, joining Ovechkin (2017-18), Cy Denneny (1917-18), Joe Malone (1917-18) and Reg Noble (1917-18). Matthews again scored hat tricks in consecutive appearances Feb. 15-17, making him the fifth player in League history to achieve the feat multiple times within a single season – after Wayne Gretzky (1983-84), Mike Bossy (1980-81), Malone (1917-18) and Noble (1917-18). Overall, Matthews became the 10th different NHL player – and first since Mario Lemieux in 1995-96 (6) – to record at least six hat tricks in one campaign. Matthews recorded 18 total multi-goal performances, the most since Alexander Mogilny in 1992-93 (24), and found the back of the net in 45 of his 81 contests (55.6%) – highlighted by a career-high eight-game goal streak from March 30 – April 13 (10-3—13). He also became the eighth different player in NHL history – and first since 1992-93 – to register at least 51 even-strength goals in a single campaign.

PRESIDENTS' TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1985-86, the Presidents' Trophy is presented annually "to the team finishing the regular season with the best overall record."

History

The NHL's Board of Governors presented the Presidents' Trophy in 1985-86 to recognize the team with the top regular-season record.

2023-24 Winner

The New York Rangers (55-23-4, 114 points) set franchise records for wins and points in one season to capture the Presidents' Trophy – first presented in 1985-86 – for the fourth time, following 2014-15, 1993-94 and 1991-92. New York, which finished one point ahead of the Dallas Stars (52-21-9, 113 points), topped the NHL standings for the fifth time overall (also 1941-42) to secure its eighth division title and first since 2014-15. The Rangers ranked in the top 10 in goals for (6th; 282) and goals against (7th; 229). They also placed third both on the power play (26.4%) and the penalty kill (84.5%). In his first season behind the Rangers' bench, Peter Laviolette became the fifth head coach to win the Presidents' Trophy with multiple franchises (also 2017-18 w/ NSH). He also became the third straight head coach to capture the award in his first season with a team, following Jim Montgomery in 2022-23 (w/ BOS) and Andrew Brunette in 2021-22 (w/ FLA).

TED LINDSAY AWARD

Description

First awarded in 1970-71 (as the Lester B. Pearson Award), the Ted Lindsay Award is presented annually “to the most outstanding player as voted by fellow members of the NHLPA.”

History

The Ted Lindsay Award is the only NHL Trophy voted on by the players themselves, carrying on the tradition established by the Lester B. Pearson Award in 1970-71. Reintroduced in 2009-10, the Ted Lindsay Award honors its namesake, a Hockey Hall of Famer known for his skill, tenacity, leadership and role in establishing the NHLPA.

2023-24 Finalists

Nikita Kucherov, RW, Tampa Bay Lightning

Kucherov played in 81 games for the Tampa Bay Lightning during the 2023-24 regular season. The forward from Maykop, Adygea, Russia, set a single-season franchise scoring record (144 points), and won his second Art Ross Trophy (also 2018-19) after leading the NHL in scoring. Kucherov tied for the league lead in assists (100) as the fifth player in NHL history to reach the century mark, while setting a new NHL record for most assists by a winger. He factored on 50% of his team’s goals this season – the 12th time in NHL history a player has reached the mark. Kucherov tied for first in primary assists (62), finished first in power-play points (53) and ranked second in even-strength points (91). In his 11th year in the NHL, the forward set career highs in goals (44), assists, points and average time on ice (21:40). Kucherov is seeking his second TLA (2018-19) in six seasons.

Nathan MacKinnon, C, Colorado Avalanche

MacKinnon played in all 82 regular-season games for the Colorado Avalanche in 2023-24. The forward from Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia, Canada, set career highs in goals (51), assists (89) and points (140 points) – the latter of which established a new single-season franchise record. MacKinnon opened the season with a 35-game home point streak – the second longest such streak (Wayne Gretzky, 40-game home point streak in 1988-89) in NHL history. He led all scorers in even-strength points (92), ranked first in shots on goal (405), placed second in both power-play points (48) and even-strength goals (41), finished third in both assists (89) and primary assists (50) and ranked fourth in goals. In his 11th NHL season, MacKinnon led all forwards in total time on ice (1,870:46). As a three-time TLA finalist (also 2017-18, 2019-20), MacKinnon is seeking his first award and looks to become the second Avalanche player (Joe Sakic, 2000-01) to receive the honour.

Auston Matthews, C, Toronto Maple Leafs

Matthews played in 81 games for the Toronto Maple Leafs during the 2023-24 regular season. The forward from Scottsdale, Arizona, United States, won his third Maurice “Rocket” Richard Trophy (also 2020-21, 2021-22) after leading all NHL scorers in goals (69) with the highest single-season goal total among active players. Matthews became the eighth player in NHL history to reach 51 even-strength goals in a season. He recorded 12 more total goals and 10 more at even strength than the next highest ranked player in each category. Matthews placed second in the league in takeaways (85) and third in shots on goal (369). With six hat tricks this season, he became the 10th different player in league history to record as many in one season. In his eighth NHL season, Matthews set career highs in goals, points (107) and faceoff wins (705). Matthews is seeking his second TLA (2021-22) in three seasons.

VEZINA TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1926-27, the Vezina Trophy is presented annually “to the goaltender adjudged to be the best at his position.” Before the 1981-82 season, the goaltender(s) of the team allowing the fewest number of goals during the regular season – the current criteria for the William M. Jennings Trophy – won the Vezina Trophy.

Voting

The general managers of the NHL’s 31 teams submit ballots for the Vezina Trophy at the conclusion of the regular season, with the top three vote-getters designated as finalists.

History

Leo Dandurand, Louis Letourneau and Joe Cattarinich, former owners of the Montreal Canadiens, presented the trophy to the NHL in 1926-27 in memory of Georges Vezina, the outstanding Canadiens goaltender who collapsed during a game on Nov. 28, 1925, and died of tuberculosis a few months later.

2023-24 Finalists

Sergei Bobrovsky, Florida Panthers

Bobrovsky (36-17-4, 2.37 goals-against average, .915 save percentage, six shutouts in 58 GP) backstopped the Panthers to a second Atlantic Division title in three seasons and the second-highest standings points total (110) in franchise history. His 36 wins rank second in Panthers history for a single-season, topped only by the club-record 39 he won in 2021-22. He co-led the League in shutouts, tied for third in wins, ranked third in GAA and posted a .900-or-better save percentage in 37 starts, second in the NHL to fellow Vezina finalist Connor Hellebuyck (39). His 14-1-1 stretch from Dec. 23 to Feb. 20 (2.22 GAA, .922 save %) lifted the Panthers from third place to first in the Atlantic en route to the club’s division title. Bobrovsky is the first Vezina finalist from the Panthers in 20 years (Roberto Luongo: 3rd in 2003-04) in a bid to become the franchise’s first winner. He captured Vezina honors in 2012-13 and 2016-17, both as a member of the Columbus Blue Jackets.

Thatcher Demko, Vancouver Canucks

Demko (35-14-2, 2.45 goals-against average, .918 save percentage, five shutouts) set career bests in wins, GAA, save pct. and shutouts, all coming in just 51 starts, as the Canucks won their first division title since 2012-13 and posted the third-highest standings points total (109) in their 53 NHL seasons. His 35 wins tied for the fifth-most in franchise history, surpassed only by Roberto Luongo (3X: 47, 40, 38) and Kirk McLean (38). He was nearly unbeatable in midseason, posting an 18-2-1 record over a 21-game span from Dec. 8 - Feb. 15. His final win of that streak was his 30th of the season (30-9-1 in 40 GP) becoming the fifth active goaltender to reach the 30-win mark in 40 games or fewer. Demko placed among the elite in NHL Edge tracking data, posting the second-best save percentage for high-danger shots (.845). The League average was .788. He is a first-time Vezina Trophy finalist and is vying to become the first Canucks goaltender to capture the honor.

Connor Hellebuyck, Winnipeg Jets

Hellebuyck (37-19-4, 2.39 goals-against average, .921 save percentage, five shutouts) won the Jennings Trophy as the goaltender (min. 25 GP) on the team allowing the fewest regular-season goals, helping the Jets earn a Stanley Cup Playoffs berth for the sixth time in the past seven years. Hellebuyck yielded three or fewer goals in 50 of his 60 total appearances, including a pair of 10-game streaks with two or fewer goals against (Nov. 17 – Dec. 16 and Dec. 22 – Jan. 20). He became the third goaltender in NHL’s modern era (since 1943-44) to post multiple such stretches in a single season. He was second in the NHL in wins and save %, fourth in GAA and ranked above the 95th percentile for both high-danger shots against (96th) and saves (97th), according to NHL Edge tracking data. Hellebuyck is a Vezina Trophy finalist for the second consecutive season and fourth time overall. He became the franchise’s first-ever Vezina recipient in 2019-20, finished second in voting in 2017-18 and third in 2022-23.

WILLIAM M. JENNINGS TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1981-82, the William M. Jennings Trophy is presented annually “to the goaltender(s) having played a minimum of 25 games for the team(s) with the fewest goals scored against it during the regular season.”

History

The William M. Jennings Trophy was presented in 1981-82 by the NHL’s Board of Governors in honor of the late William M. Jennings, longtime governor and president of the New York Rangers and one of the great builders of hockey in the United States.

Until the 1980-81 season, the Vezina Trophy was awarded to the goaltender(s) of the team(s) allowing the fewest number of goals during the regular season.

2023-24 Winners

The Winnipeg Jets, led by Connor Hellebuyck (37-19-4, 2.39 GAA, .921 SV%, 5 SO), yielded a League-low 199 goals to finish one clear of the Florida Panthers (200) and win their first William M. Jennings Trophy – the closest race for the award since 2015-16, when the Anaheim Ducks (192) also prevailed by one goal over the Washington Capitals (193). Winnipeg allowed three or fewer goals in 65 of their 82 contests, spurred by a streak of 34 consecutive such games from Nov. 4 – Jan. 20 – tied with the 1928-29 New York Americans for the third-longest stretch in NHL history, behind only the 1928-29 Boston Bruins (44) and 2014-15 Minnesota Wild (35). Hellebuyck yielded three or fewer goals in 50 of his 60 total appearances – including a pair of 10-game streaks with two or fewer goals against (Nov. 17 – Dec. 16 and Dec. 22 – Jan. 20). He became the ninth different goaltender in NHL history to post multiple such stretches within a single season and just the third to do so in the modern era (since 1943-44), joining Marc-Andre Fleury (2007-08) and Harry Lumley (1953-54). The 2019-20 Vezina Trophy winner finished the season among the top five goaltenders in the League in wins (2nd; 37), save percentage (2nd; .921), saves (2nd; 1,656), games played (3rd; 60), goals-against average (4th; 2.39) and shutouts (t-5th; 5).

WILLIE O'REE COMMUNITY HERO AWARD

Description

First awarded in 2017-18, the Willie O'Ree Community Hero Award is presented annually "to an individual who – through the game of hockey – has positively impacted his or her community, culture or society." Since 2022-23, there has been two winners: one in Canada and one in the U.S.

Voting

Fans submit candidates for the Willie O'Ree Community Hero Award. In consultation with the NHL and Willie O'Ree, the field is narrowed to six finalists – three in Canada and three in the U.S. The finalists, and ultimate winners, are determined by fan vote and weighted votes from O'Ree, the NHL, Hyundai (for the Canadian award) and Discover (for the U.S. award).

History

The Willie O'Ree Community Hero Award honors former NHL forward Willie O'Ree, who on Jan. 18, 1958, became the first black player to compete in the League. O'Ree, who lost sight in his right eye at a young age, went on to play professional hockey for 21 years. His perseverance is unrivaled, and his impact on the game and the lives of young players still is felt today. For more than two decades, O'Ree has served as the NHL's Diversity Ambassador, traveling across North America to schools and hockey programs to share his story and experiences as well as to promote messages of inclusion, dedication and confidence. O'Ree has used hockey as a platform to build character and teach life skills, and has used his influence to foster positive values through the sport.

2023-24 Finalists (Canada – presented by Hyundai)

Mark Burgin (Vancouver, B.C.)

Burgin is the founder of Diversity Athletics Society, a nonprofit that provides mentorship and athletic development to help keep kids in sports. Burgin coaches and mentors young, diverse athletes to help them excel and reach their full potential. He is also a Board member for BC Hockey and is part of their first-ever working group for Equity, Diversity and Inclusion which makes recommendations to make hockey more inclusive. Mark DeMontis (Toronto, Ont.)

DeMontis is the founder of Canadian Blind Hockey (formerly Courage Canada) and is a gold medalist with Canada's National Blind Hockey Team. DeMontis, who lost his vision at 17-years old, founded Canadian Blind Hockey to help build a bigger blind hockey community, and to help more kids play the sport. Today, the organization changes the lives of people who are blind or partially sighted by providing learn to play programs, development camps, as well as regional and national competitions. Click here to watch a video feature.

Allen Hierlihy (Hamilton, Ont.)

Hierlihy is a volunteer with the Hamilton District Sledge Hockey Association which is committed to teaching sledge hockey to boys and girls of all playing abilities. The Association welcomes 30 boys and girls and has three teams of varying competitiveness, with kids as young as five years old participating. A longtime hockey player himself, Hierlihy found this community after his son became an amputee at a young age. For eight years, he has dedicated his time to help others find this welcoming community, one he feels fortunate to have found. Click here to watch a video feature.

2023-24 Finalists (U.S. – presented by Discover)

Jerry DeVaul (Colorado Springs, Colo.)

DeVaul is the president of the Colorado Sled Hockey Association. DeVaul is a U.S. Army veteran, double amputee, and competitive sled hockey player who is leading the organization's efforts to grow the sport. Founded in 1995, the nonprofit provides a competitive environment using hockey to connect youth, veterans, and adult athletes with disabilities to foster independence and elevate social interaction. Click here to watch a video feature.

Kelsey McGuire (Philadelphia, Pa.)

McGuire is the founder of Philadelphia Blind Hockey, the first and only blind hockey organization in Philadelphia. McGuire is a high school teacher who combines her knowledge of teaching visually impaired students and adapts it to helping boys and girls to learn how to skate and how to play hockey. In just its second season, Philadelphia Blind Hockey provides students aged 6- to 13-years old with free blind hockey programming. Click here to watch a video feature.

Estela Rivas-Bryant (El Segundo, Calif.)

Rivas-Bryant is the founder of The Empowerment Effect, a nonprofit organization for young girls in Los Angeles that focuses on ice hockey and mentorship, providing kids with free equipment, coaching, and ice time. Rivas-Bryant is a first-generation Mexican American who grew up in Southern California. After coaching youth hockey for more than 20 years, she created The Empowerment Effect which currently welcomes more than 30 girls, the majority of whom are Hispanic, aged 7- to 16-years old. CLARENCE S. CAMPBELL BOWL

Description

First awarded in 1967-68, the Clarence S. Campbell Bowl is presented annually “to the Western Conference team that advances to the Stanley Cup Final.” In 2020-21, it was given to the winner of the Montreal Canadiens-Vegas Golden Knights Stanley Cup Semifinals series.

History

The Clarence S. Campbell Bowl was presented by the NHL’s Member Clubs in 1968 for perpetual competition by the League in recognition of the services of Clarence S. Campbell, NHL President from 1946-77. From 1967-68 through 1973-74, the trophy was awarded to the regular-season champion of the West Division. Beginning in 1974-75, it was presented to the regular-season winner of the conference bearing the name of the trophy. From 1981-82 to 1992-93, the trophy was given to the playoff champion in the Campbell Conference. Since 1993-94, the trophy has been awarded to the playoff champion in the Western Conference. The trophy itself is a hallmark piece made of sterling silver that was crafted by a British silversmith in 1878.

PRINCE OF WALES TROPHY

Description

First awarded in 1925-26, the Prince of Wales Trophy is presented annually “to the Eastern Conference team that advances to the Stanley Cup Final.” In 2020-21, it was given to the winner of the Tampa Bay Lightning-New York Islanders Stanley Cup Semifinals series.

History

His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, donated the trophy to the NHL in 1925. It originally was awarded to the winner of the first game played in Madison Square Garden on Dec. 15, 1925 (MTL 3 at NYA 1). It then was awarded to the NHL playoff champion in 1925-26 and 1926-27. From 1927-28 through 1937-38, the award was presented to the regular-season champion of the American Division of the NHL. (The team finishing first in the Canadian Division received the O'Brien Trophy during these years.) From 1938-39, when the NHL reverted to one section, to 1966-67, it was presented to the team winning the NHL regular-season championship. With expansion in 1967-68, it again became a divisional trophy, awarded to the regular-season champions of the East Division through the 1973-74 season. Beginning in 1974-75, it was awarded to the regular-season winner of the conference bearing the name of the trophy. From 1981-82 to 1992-93, the trophy was presented to the playoff champion in the Wales Conference. Since 1993-94, the trophy has been presented to the playoff champion in the Eastern Conference.

STANLEY CUP

Description

The most revered trophy in all of sports, the Stanley Cup is awarded annually to the National Hockey League champion. Also the oldest trophy in North American professional sports, the Stanley Cup has changed in size and shape over the years. The current version of the trophy is made of silver and nickel alloy, is almost 3 feet tall and weighs nearly 35 pounds.

Learn More

Fans around the world can celebrate and explore the Stanley Cup like never before via a digital replica of the trophy as well as an augmented reality experience, both available at [NHL.com/St Stanley-Cup](https://www.nhl.com/St Stanley-Cup).

History

The Stanley Cup – the oldest trophy competed for by professional athletes in North America – was donated by Frederick Arthur, Lord Stanley of Preston and son of the Earl of Derby, in 1893. Lord Stanley purchased the trophy for 10 guineas ($50 at the time) for presentation to the amateur hockey champions of Canada. Since 1906, when Canadian teams began to openly pay their players, the Stanley Cup has been the symbol of professional hockey supremacy. It has been contested only by NHL teams since 1926-27 and has been under the exclusive control of the NHL since 1947.

* Prior to 1951, the six NHL head coaches voted for the NHL All-Star Teams. Points were awarded on the basis of five points for a first selection, three for a second choice and one for a third. Coaches were not allowed to vote for players on their own team. A unanimous selection consisted of 25 points (five first selections).				1947	FIRST TEAM
