Islanders set NHL record during first playoff game at UBS Arena

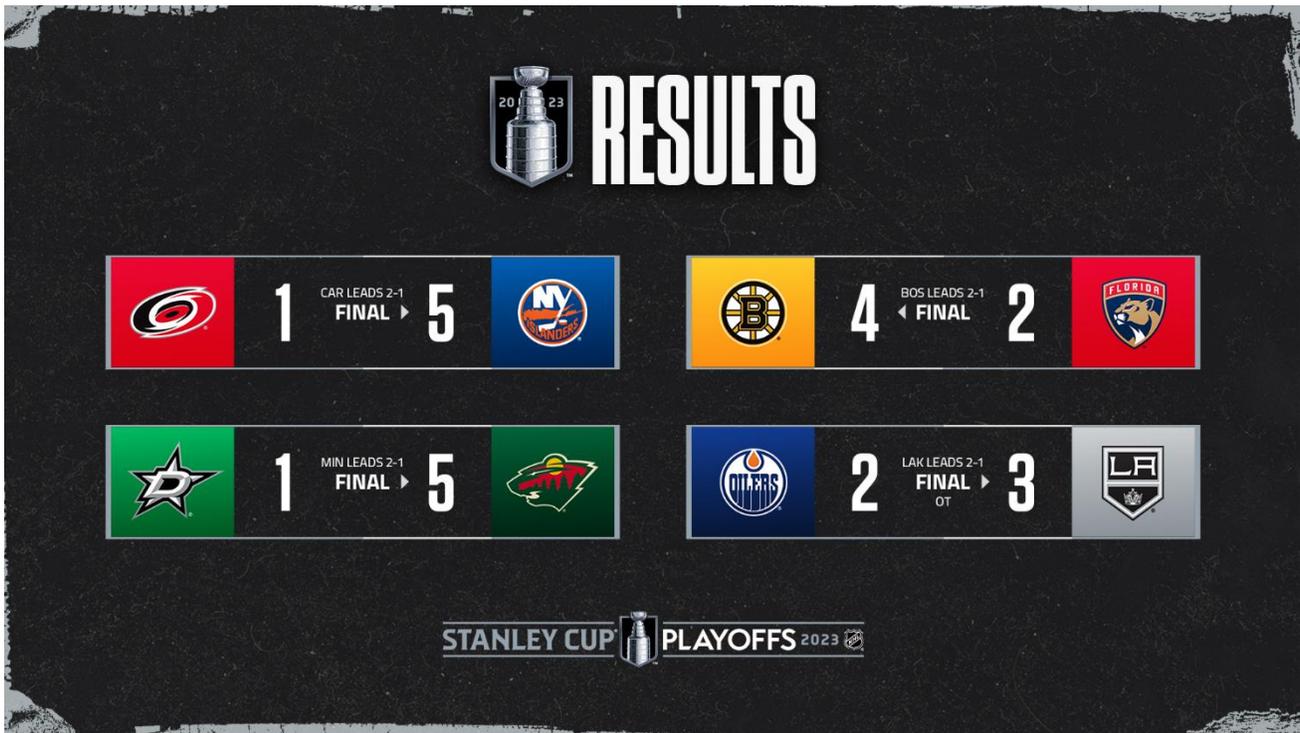

Thousand Oaks, Calif., native Moore scores overtime winner, propels Kings to 2-1 series lead

Wild, Bruins rebound to earn Game 3 wins

* The Islanders won their first-ever playoff game at UBS Arena to cut their series deficit to 2-1, guaranteeing for the second straight year that at least seven of eight series in the First Round will require five or more games (7 in 2022). This is the first time in 30 years that has occurred in back-to-back opening rounds.

* Trevor Moore (Thousand Oaks, Calif.,) became the first California-born player to score a postseason overtime goal for a California-based team as the Kings took a 2-1 series lead over the Oilers.

* The Bruins and Wild each earned bounce-back wins in Game 3 – contests that featured Nick and Marcus Foligno both score to combine for a feat not seen in over a decade.

ISLANDERS WIN FIRST GAME AT UBS ARENA TO CUT SERIES DEFICIT

With the contest tied 1-1 late in the third period, Kyle Palmieri scored a go-ahead goal with 3:51 remaining and ignited a four-goal flurry in a span of 2:18 as New York skated to victory in the first-ever postseason game at UBS Arena. The Islanders carried their momentum from Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum and improved to 97-53 at home during the postseason – their .647 all-time home winning percentage trails only the Canadiens (257-134-3; .652 W%) for the highest in Stanley Cup Playoffs history.

The Islanders scored four goals in a span of 2:18 to establish a Stanley Cup Playoffs record for the fastest four goals by one team.

The Canadiens previously held the mark after scoring four times in 2:35 during Game 5 of the 1944 Semifinals.

* Palmieri's game winner marked the Islanders' third-latest go-ahead goal in a playoff game in the past 30 years, trailing only Brock Nelson (56:35; Game 3 of 2020 CF) and Shawn Bates (57:30; Game 4 of 2002 CQF).

HOMETOWN MOORE SCORES OVERTIME WINNER TO LIFT KINGS TO VICTORY

Trevor Moore, the Thousand Oaks, Calif., native who grew up 40 miles outside of Los Angeles, scored the overtime winner 3:24 into the extra frame to complete the Kings' comeback and skate to a 2-1 series lead over Connor McDavid, Leon Draisaitl and the Oilers – that duo also found the score sheet Friday while skating in their 40th game, a note that can be found in the most recent #NHLStats: Live Updates. Los Angeles has now earned both of its wins in the 2023 First Round in come-from-behind fashion.

* The Kings opened the scoring with 33 seconds remaining in the opening frame, marking the third time in the 2023 First Round the club has scored in the final minute of a period. Los Angeles has recorded more such goals in a single series just once before (4 in 1982 DSF vs. EDM).

* Moore recorded his first career overtime goal (regular season or playoffs) and became the first California-born player to score a Stanley Cup Playoffs overtime winner for a California-based team. Moore grew up an avid Kings fan – he has fond memories of going to games to watch franchise mainstays like Anze Kopitar and Drew Doughty, teammates of his who were on the ice to celebrate Moore's overtime goal.

Trevor Moore became the fourth California-born player in NHL history to score a playoff overtime goal, joining Brooks Orpik (Game 2 of 2019 R1 & Game 6 of 2013 CQF), Auston Matthews (Game 4 of 2020 SCQ) and Jason Zucker (Game 3 of 2013 CQF)

BRUINS, WILD BOUNCE BACK FROM GAME 2 LOSSES TO TAKE 2-1 SERIES LEADS

The Bruins and Wild both took 2-1 series leads after falling in Game 2 – Boston owns an 18-7 record when leading a best-of-seven series after starting at home, while Minnesota is 1-0 when starting on the road.

* Dmitry Orlov (0-2—2) and Brad Marchand (0-1—1) both found the score sheet for the third straight game to open the 2023 Stanley Cup Playoffs. Marchand improved his career postseason totals to 51-70—121 (142 GP) and became the fourth player in Bruins playoff history to record 70 assists, joining Ray Bourque (125), David Krejci (83) and Patrice Bergeron (78).

Dmitry Orlov became the second defenseman in Bruins history to collect a point in each of their first three postseason games with the club, joining Glenn Wesley (3-0—3 in 3 GP), who achieved the feat in 1988

* Marcus Foligno scored one of five Minnesota goals while Filip Gustavsson turned aside 23 of 24 shots to help the Wild skate to their second series lead over the Stars. Gustavsson, who also earned the victory in Game 1, became the first goaltender in franchise history to win each of his first two playoff appearances with the club.

Marcus Foligno (MIN) and Nick Foligno (BOS) became the first pair of brothers to score on the same day in the postseason since May 7, 2010 (Daniel & Henrik Sedin w/ VAN).

It also marked the first time since April 26, 2009 that two brothers have done so on different teams (Eric Staal w/ CAR & Marc Staal w/ NYR).
