NOT ONE PATH: MAX DOMI'S STORY SHARED ON WORLD DIABETES DAY

Max Domi is the most recent player to be featured in the Not One Path series, outlining unconventional paths to the NHL including players who have overcome medical issues, with his story shared on World Diabetes Day. Domi has worked hard to not let his type 1 diabetes define him and has been a vocal advocate for the cause by inspiring, encouraging and educating patients with diabetes with a strong focus on kids. Now established as an NHL player, Domi wrote a book to share his journey and donated part of the proceeds to the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF).

"Can I still play hockey?"

That was the first question Max Domi asked his doctor after learning he was type 1 diabetic at age 12 and was thrilled to find out that if managed properly, type 1 diabetes does not need to interfere with the things you love. While playing junior hockey in London, Ont., Domi adopted Orion, a diabetic alert dog that detects changes in blood-sugar level – Orion has been helping Domi in his playing career ever since. In 2019, Domi published a book, No Days Off: My Life with Type 1 Diabetes and Journey to the NHL, where he shared his journey and the adversity he faced in hopes of helping others navigate life with type 1 diabetes.

* The Ducks, who visit Nashville with the League's longest active road win streak (4 GP), have made a habit of overcoming adversity as they lead the NHL with five third-period comeback wins in 2023-24. Should they overcome a deficit in the final frame to win again tonight, the Ducks will become the first team in NHL history to do so six times through their first 15 games in a season.

* Sam Reinhart, who was named the NHL's first star for the week ending Nov. 12 after posting four consecutive multi-point games, enters Tuesday's contest against the Sharks looking to become the seventh different player in franchise history to post a five-game multi-point streak and the first since Aleksander Barkov (6 GP) and Jonathan Huberdeau (5 GP) in 2021-22.

SEVERAL STREAKS ON THE LINE TUESDAY

A busy nine-game slate will see several other players and teams put their streaks on the line Tuesday:

* Boston's Jeremy Swayman has earned at least a point in all seven games he has appeared in to start the 2023-24 campaign (6-0-1). Should he tend the crease Tuesday and earn another point, he would become just the fifth different goaltender in Bruins history to start his season with an eight-game point streak – he would join Ross Brooks (11 GP in 1972-73), Gerry Cheevers (9 GP in 1978-79 & 8 GP in 1975-76), Tuukka Rask (8 GP in 2019-20) and Tiny Thompson (8 GP in 1937-38).

* Vegas continues its visit of the U.S. capital when they take on Washington at Capital One Arena, where Nicolas Roy will attempt to score a goal in his fourth consecutive road game. Should he do so, Roy would tie the longest road goal streak by a Golden Knights player – a mark set by Jonathan Marchessault in 2017-18 and matched by Max Pacioretty in 2019-20 as well as Shea Theodore in 2021-22.

* Pittsburgh's Jake Guentzel, who leads his team in assists and points (tied), has found the score sheet in each of his past 10 contests against the Blue Jackets dating to Oct. 5, 2019 (5-8—13). His 10-game run is the second-longest active point streak by a Penguins player versus a single franchise, behind only Sidney Crosby's 14-game stretch against the state-rival Flyers (11-11—22).

* The Stars, who are coming off a perfect three-game road trip, return to American Airlines Center on Tuesday to take on the Coyotes. Dallas has collected a point in 17 consecutive home meetings against Arizona dating to March 20, 2012 (16-0-1), tied for their second-longest such run versus a single opponent (also 17 GP vs. WSH from Oct. 8, 1996 – Jan. 4, 2019), behind only a 19-game home point streak against Minnesota (April 10, 2002 to Feb. 24, 2012).
