STATS AND INFORMATION

@PR_NHL   @PR_NHL   #NHLStats

1. The 2024 NHL All-Star Weekend has been expanded to a three-day event with the addition of NHL All-Star Thursday – which includes the return of the Tim Hortons NHL All-Star Player Draft for the first time since 2015, when rosters will be determined for the All-Star Game.

2. There is a new format for 2024 NHL All-Star Skills presented by DraftKings Sportsbook, which will showcase 12 players competing in eight skills for a winner-take-all $1 million (USD) prize. The first 10 participants were announced Jan. 13, while the remaining two were selected via the 2024 NHL All-Star Skills Fan Vote presented by MassMutual (and Mathew Barzal was named as an injury replacement Jan. 30). Click here to watch an explainer video of Skills and here to view player assignments for the first six events.

3. NHL-leading goal scorer Auston Matthews was selected as the Maple Leafs representative among the first 32 players named Jan. 4 and three of his teammates were among the 12 players added Jan. 13 via the 2024 NHL All-Star Fan Vote Presented by MassMutual. Three injury replacements have since been added to the 44-man roster (Vincent Trocheck and Kyle Connor on Jan. 22, followed by Jesper Bratt on Jan. 30).

4. Should all four selected Maple Leafs play Feb. 3, it would match the most representatives from the All-Star Game hosts over the past 17 events (since 2002; also STL in 2020, TBL in 2018, NSH in 2016, OTT in 2012 & MTL in 2009). Since 1969, only six All-Star hosts have had more than four representatives in the game (most recently 5 by COL in 2001).

5. The Canucks are sending six players to All-Star: Quinn Hughes along with Brock Boeser, Thatcher Demko, J.T. Miller and Elias Pettersson selected via fan vote – plus Elias Lindholm, acquired from the Flames Jan. 31. Since 1980, there have been six instances of six or more teammates playing in the same All-Star Game: the Avalanche in 1998 (6), the Oilers four times (6 in 1984; 8 in 1985; 9 in 1986; 6 in 1988) and the Flyers in 1980 (7).

6. Fourteen NHL players are on pace for 100-plus points this season, including 11 who are participating in Skills. Among both those groups are Nikita Kucherov and Nathan MacKinnon who have recently taken turns as leaders in the Art Ross Trophy race and are on pace for more than 140 points in 2023-24. If 14 players reach the 100-point mark in 2023-24, it would match the second highest total in League history; the last campaign with multiple 140-point players was 1995-96.

7. There are 16 players from Canadian-based teams among the 44 currently on rosters for 2024 NHL All-Star Weekend. Should they all play Feb. 3, it would match the highest representation of players from Canadian clubs over the past 35 years and the fifth time since 1969 that the Game features at least 16 such representatives, following 1988 (19), 1986 (18), 1985 (17) and 1989 (16).

8. The 44 players selected include 32 forwards, eight goaltenders and four defensemen. The group of All-Stars made up eight of the top 10 point-getters (and 16 of the top 20), each of the five highest goal-scorers (and 8 of the top 11), along with the two highest-scoring defensemen and four of five goaltenders with 20+ wins this season.

9. Six All-Stars competing in Skills have previously won an event: Connor McDavid (2017, 2018 & 2019 Fastest Skater), Elias Pettersson (2023 Hardest Shot), Cale Makar (2023 Splash Shot), Mathew Barzal (2020 Fastest Skater), David Pastrnak (2019 Accuracy Shooting) and Leon Draisaitl (2019 Passing Challenge). In addition, Connor Hellebuyck (2023 Tendy Tandem) is the only goaltender at the event who has won at Skills.

10. Three players selected have won NHL All-Star Game MVP – all in consecutive years: Brock Boeser (2018), Sidney Crosby (2019) and David Pastrnak (2020).

The three-day, NHL All-Star Weekend festivities get started with NHL All-Star Thursday at Scotiabank Arena (6 p.m. ET) and will be headlined by the return of the Tim Hortons NHL All-Star Player Draft – the fourth time overall and first in almost a decade the player draft is part of All-Star Weekend. Also Thursday: the NHL Alumni Man of the Year, Honouring the 1967 Toronto Maple Leafs and the Canadian Tire PWHL 3-on-3 Showcase.

* The No. 1 picks to date have been goaltender Cam Ward (2011) and forwards Pavel Datsyuk (2012) and Ryan Johansen (2015). Ward was a member of the host Hurricanes, Datsyuk ranked fourth in the League in points and Johansen was a member of the host Blue Jackets.

* The highest a defenseman has been selected is with the No. 2 pick (Erik Karlsson in 2012).

* The last pick in each All-Star player draft to date has been a forward: Phil Kessel (2011), Logan Couture (2012) and Filip Forsberg (2015). Forsberg ended up as the last selection after forward Ryan Nugent-Hopkins was assigned as the second-last pick via fan vote.

* Thirty-one active players have been selected in an All-Star player draft at least once (highlighted in the charts below; min. 1 GP in 2023-24), including 12 selected multiple times. Overall, five players were picked in all three player drafts: Claude Giroux, Phil Kessel, Carey Price, Steven Stamkos and Shea Weber. In addition, Patrick Kane participated in all three but was an assistant captain making picks in 2011 and 2015.

STATS AND INFORMATION

* Toronto will host NHL All-Star for the first time since 2000, ninth time overall and third time in the NHL's expansion era (since 1967-68). The city hosted the first official NHL All-Star Game in 1947 and held two benefit games involving teams of NHL All-Stars before the inaugural event 76 years ago.

* The roots of the NHL All-Star Game were formed 90 years ago in Toronto, when the Maple Leafs hosted the 'All-Star' game on Feb. 14, 1934, as a fundraiser for forward Ace Bailey, who suffered a career-ending injury during the 1933-34 season. The game raised more than $23,000 and included 22 members of the Hockey Hall of Fame. Another benefit game was held in the city before the 1939-40 season, with all proceeds going to the family of Babe Siebert who drowned in 1939.

* The next time All-Stars gathered was for the first official NHL All-Star Game, held in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1947, pitting the reigning Stanley Cup champion Maple Leafs against All-Stars from the five other teams. It was the first of six times the city hosted the event during the Original Six era, including in 1962 when Maple Leafs forward Eddie Shack received the first All-Star MVP award.

* Toronto also hosted the first All-Star of the NHL's expansion era, during the 1967-68 season when Bobby Orr made his debut at the event. The showcase landed in the city again 32 years later, when the 50th official NHL All-Star Game was held in 2000 – it was at this All-Star Game that the League retired Wayne Gretzky's No. 99.

1977 – The last year an NHL All-Star Game featured at least three undrafted goaltenders (Glenn Resch and Bernie Parent with the Campbell Conference and Gerry Desjardins with the Wales Conference). There are three undrafted netminders among the eight selected for 2024.

1967 – First year the NHL All-Star Game was held during the season (Jan. 18, 1967). Henri Richard (1-1—2) was named MVP in front of a home crowd at the Montreal Forum after leading the Canadiens to a 3-0 win against a team of 17 NHL All-Stars in the penultimate annual showcase involving the reigning Stanley Cup winners.

1963 – The first year an All-Star Game MVP was named. Maple Leafs forward Eddie Shack claimed the inaugural award after aiding Toronto to a win against the All-Stars at Maple Leaf Gardens.

It was used in all but two years from 1947-48 through 1967-68 (exceptions: 1951 & 1952), with the last such occurrence held in Toronto in 1967-68, when the Maple Leafs faced the All-Stars after what stands as their most recent Cup win.

All-Star appearance in brackets (including 2024)

F   20   Sebastian Aho, CAR (3rd)
* Aho (also 2019 & 2022) is set to join Eric Staal (4x), Ron Francis (3x) and Justin Faulk (3x) as the fourth three-time All-Star in Hurricanes/Whalers franchise history.

* In 2022, Aho won the NHL Accuracy Shooting event, marking the second consecutive time a Carolina skater won the event after Jaccob Slavin in 2020.

* Aho recently became the first player in franchise history with four-plus points on consecutive days (Dec. 27-28, 2023) – and the first player to accomplish the feat League-wide since Jeremy Roenick from Nov. 25-26, 1999 (6-2—8 w/ PHX). He then became the fourth in Hurricanes/Whalers history to post three-plus points in three straight games.

* Aho ranks among the top five in franchise history for career goals, assists and points (hitting the 500-point mark earlier this season) and is on the verge of his eighth straight 20-goal campaign. He already is one of two players in franchise history to begin his NHL career with seven consecutive 20-goal seasons, following Ron Francis who did so with the Whalers (10 from 1981-82 to 1990-91).

F   13   Mathew Barzal, NYI (3rd)
* Barzal is set to become the seventh three-time All-Star in franchise history and first since John Tavares (5x). The others: Denis Potvin (9x), Bryan Trottier (7x), Mike Bossy (7x), Pat LaFontaine (4x) and Ed Westfall (3x).

* Barzal (2-3—5) and Penguins forward Sidney Crosby (2-3—5) each recorded five points in the 2019 final, which is tied with Panthers forward Matthew Tkachuk (3-2—5 in 2023 SF) for the highest single-game total recorded under the 3-on-3 format.

* Barzal (0:22 in 2019 F) and Crosby (0:15 in 2019 SF) each scored in the opening 22 seconds of the 2019 All-Star final and semifinals, respectively, which still rank among the top 10 fastest goals from the start of an NHL All-Star Game under any format.

* Barzal won the Fastest Skater event in 2020, clocking a time of 13.175 seconds for his full lap around the rink to edge runner-up and then-two-time reigning champion Connor McDavid (13.215 sec.).

F   22   Oliver Bjorkstrand, SEA (1st)
* Bjorkstrand is set to become the second Kraken player to represent the club in an NHL All-Star Game, following Jordan Eberle in 2022. Matty Beniers was named to the Pacific Division team last year – part of his Calder Memorial Trophy-winning campaign – but missed the game due to injury.

* Bjorkstrand is set to become the third Danish-born player to appear in an NHL All-Star Game, after Frans Nielsen (2017) and Frederik Andersen (2020 & 2022). All three hail from Herning, Denmark.

G   72   Sergei Bobrovsky, FLA (2nd)
* Bobrovsky made his only other All-Star Game appearance in 2017 as a member of the Blue Jackets, playing a pivotal role in helping the Metropolitan Division win the 3-on-3 tournament. He is one of 13 goaltenders with a 3-on-3 All-Star title and the only one of that group named to the 2024 roster.

* Bobrovsky made 16 saves across 20 minutes of play during the 2017 All-Star Game which rank among the top 10 for one year under the 3-on-3 format: Devan Dubnyk (25 in 2019), Braden Holtby (23 in 2019), Juuse Saros (22 in 2023), Andrei Vasilevskiy (21 in 2023), Luongo (20 in 2016), Tristan Jarry (19 in 2022), Vasilevskiy (18 in 2018), Holtby (17 in 2017 WSH), Cam Talbot (16 in 2022) and Bobrovsky (16 in 2017).

* Bobrovsky can become the fourth different Florida goaltender to represent the club in an All-Star Game, following Roberto Luongo (2004, 2015 & 2016), John Vanbiesbrouck (1994, 1996 & 1997) and Tomas Vokoun (2008). The 35-year-old is set to become the third player to represent the Panthers in an All-Star Game at age 35 or older, following Jaromir Jagr (age 43 in 2016) and Luongo (age 36 in 2016 & age 35 in 2015).

* So far this season, Bobrovsky has overtaken Vanbiesbrouck for second place on the franchise wins list and posted his 40th NHL shutout (Nov. 27) – all after helping Florida reach the Stanley Cup Final last spring.

* Before making his first All-Star Game appearance in 2017, Bobrovsky tied the NHL record for longest winning streak by a goaltender – he won 14 consecutive outings for the Blue Jackets from Nov. 29, 2016 to Jan. 3, 2017.

F   6   Brock Boeser, VAN (2nd)
* Boeser made his All-Star Game debut in 2018 at age 20 and joined Mario Lemieux in 1985 as the second rookie in NHL history to receive MVP honors at the event. He and Lemieux (age 19 in 1985) are the only players to win the award before their 22nd birthday.

* Boeser opened the 2023-24 campaign by matching the franchise record for goals in a game with four – the first four-goal performance by a Canucks player in nearly 20 years. He is now set to shatter career highs in goals and points, while also on track to become the third different player in Canucks history to score 50 goals in a campaign and the first since Pavel Bure in 1997-98 (51).

* Boeser's six-year gap between All-Star appearances is set to tie Bo Horvat (2017 & 2023) for the longest by a Canucks player. Boeser is the only Vancouver player to be named All-Star MVP.

F   63   Jesper Bratt, NJD (1st) – added Jan. 30 as injury replacement
* Jesper Bratt will join Joe Pavelski (2016, 2017, 2019 & 2022), Cam Atkinson (2017 & 2019), Mark Stone (2022) and Linus Ullmark (2023) as the only active players drafted in the sixth round or later to play in an All-Star Game.

* Earlier this season, Bratt (423 GP) became the fourth-fastest player in franchise history to record 200 assists, behind Scott Gomez (351 GP), Kirk Muller (355 GP) and Brian Rafalski (421 GP).

* Bratt (19-31—50 in 47 GP) leads all Devils skaters in assists, points and game-winning goals (5) and is on pace for new career highs in goals, assists and points in a season.

F   81   Kyle Connor, WPG (2nd) – added Jan. 22 as injury replacement
* Connor is set to become the fifth player in Jets team history to skate in the NHL All-Star Game multiple times, following Connor Hellebuyck (4x, including 2024), Blake Wheeler (2x), Dustin Byfuglien (2x) and Mark Scheifele (2x).

* Despite missing 16 games due to injury, Connor can record his second 40-goal season and can become the first player with multiple such campaigns for the current Jets and just the second in Jets/Thrashers franchise history with as many (Ilya Kovalchuk: 5). He is on pace to join Bure (2) as the second player in franchise history with multiple 100-point seasons and can become the first Swedish-born player in League history with consecutive 100-point campaigns.

* Pettersson is set to become the first Swedish-born player to skate in at least four NHL All-Star Games before his 26th birthday. Overall, he can become the eighth from the Tre Kroner to play in the event at least four times, following Nicklas Lidstrom (11x), Mats Sundin (8x), Erik Karlsson (7x), Daniel Alfredsson (6x), Peter Forsberg (5x), Henrik Lundqvist (5x) and Markus Naslund (5x).

* Pettersson made his NHL All-Star Game debut in 2019 as a rookie. He became the third rookie in Canucks history to skate in an All-Star Game, following Dale Tallon (1971) and Brock Boeser (2018), with Quinn Hughes (2020) since adding his name to that list. He helped make Vancouver the first team in the expansion era (since 1967-68) and third in All-Star history to be represented by a rookie in three consecutive seasons.

F   13   Sam Reinhart, FLA (1st)
* His father, Paul Reinhart, played in two NHL All-Star Games, representing the Campbell Conference All-Stars in 1985 and 1989. They will become the 10th family in NHL history to have a father-son combination each play in the NHL All-Star Game at some point in their careers, following the Tkachuks, Stastnys, Parises, Hulls, Howes, Fogolins, Dineens and Apps'.

* Reinhart is set to shatter his career high for goals in a season – he currently has 37, four more than his previous best (33 in 2021-22) – and can become the second 50-goal scorer in Panthers history. Pavel Bure is responsible for the only two 50-goal seasons in franchise history, the first of which he recorded in 1999-00 – the same season he was named NHL All-Star Game MVP and the last time the event was held in Toronto.

* Bure and Matthew Tkachuk (2023) are the only Panthers to be named NHL All-Star Game MVP. The last team to have a representative claim the award in consecutive years was the Rangers: Mike Gartner (1993) and Mike Richter (1994).

F   44   Morgan Rielly, TOR (1st)
* Rielly is set to become the first Maple Leafs defenseman in a dozen years to play in the All-Star Game and the fifth Toronto blueliner to do so over the past 31 years, following Dion Phaneuf (2012), Tomas Kaberle (2002, 2007, 2008 & 2009), Dmitry Yushkevich (2000, the last time the club hosted All-Star) and Larry Murphy (1996). In the expansion era (since 1967-68), only 13 different blueliners have represented the club on an All-Star team.

* Rielly, the longest-serving current Maple Leafs player, ranks among the top 10 in franchise history for career goals, assists and points by a defenseman. By the end of the season, he is likely to overtake Tim Horton for third place in all-time scoring among Toronto blueliners behind Borje Salming and Tomas Kaberle – the only three defenseman to skate in more games for the blue and white.

* Rielly has already surpassed his goal total from the entire 2022-23 campaign and is on track to record at least 60 points in a season for the third time in his career. Only two defensemen in franchise history have recorded three 60-point seasons: Borje Salming (5x) and Ian Turnbull (4x).

G   31   Igor Shesterkin, NYR (2nd)
* Shesterkin is set to follow Mike Richter (2000), Ed Giacomin (1968), Gump Worsley (1963) and Chuck Rayner (1949 & 1951) as the fifth Rangers goaltender to play in an NHL All-Star Game in Toronto.

* In the Rangers' season opener, Shesterkin (159 GP) became the seventh-fastest goaltender in NHL history to reach 100 career wins and fastest since Chris Osgood in 1997-98.

* Shesterkin (2021-22) is one of three Rangers to win the Vezina Trophy under the current selection criteria (since 1981-82), alongside Henrik Lundqvist (2011-12) and John Vanbiesbrouck (1985-86).

* A Rangers goaltender was part of each of the first two Player Drafts in NHL All-Star history. Lundqvist was selected 11th overall in 2011, the third netminder selected that year behind Cam Ward (1st) and Tim Thomas (10th). One year later, Lundqvist made selections in the Player Draft alongside team captain Daniel Alfredsson and chose Jonathan Quick, now with the Rangers, as the first netminder picked by Team Alfredsson.

F   14   Nick Suzuki, MTL (3rd)
* Suzuki (also 2022 & 2023), 24, is set to become the third Canadiens player to represent the club on an NHL All-Star team at least three times before his 25th birthday; he will join goaltender Carey Price (2009, 2011 & 2012) and Bernie Geoffrion (1953, 1955 & 1956).

* Suzuki can become the first Canadiens skater to appear in three consecutive NHL All-Star Games since Mark Recchi from 1997 to 1999. Price is the only Montreal player to do so since then, tending goal in four straight events from 2009 to 2015 (participating in all three previous Player Drafts in the process).

* Suzuki became the youngest captain in Canadiens history when he was given the "C" ahead of the 2022-23 season at age 23. The distinction was previously held by Sylvio Mantha who was named captain at age 24 ahead of the 1926-27 campaign.

* Suzuki is tracking toward his third consecutive 20-goal season, a feat achieved by only two Canadiens players in the past dozen years: Brendan Gallagher and Max Pacioretty.

G   1   Jeremy Swayman, BOS (1st)
* Swayman will become the 12th goaltender to represent the Bruins in an All-Star Game and second in as many years following Linus Ullmark in 2023. This can mark the first time Boston has different goaltenders play in consecutive All-Star Games. The only other clubs in the past 25 years to have that happen are the Canucks (Jacob Markstrom in 2020 & Thatcher Demko in 2022) and Ducks (Jean-Sebastien Giguere in 2009 Jonas Hiller in 2011); the last club had that occur across consecutive years was the Stars (Andy Moog in 1997 & Ed Belfour in 1998).

* Swayman (Anchorage, Alaska) can become the first Alaska-born goaltender to appear in an All-Star Game. During the 2000 NHL All-Star Game in Toronto, forward Scott Gomez (Anchorage, Alaska) became the first player born in the state to skate in the event – Gomez also played in 2008 and remains the only Alaska-born player to participate to date.

* Swayman won 62 of his first 100 NHL games, tied for the most victories at that stage of a career among active netminders. That also places him among a group of 15 goaltenders in NHL history with at least that many victories through 100 contests.

* In 2022-23, Swayman teamed up with Linus Ullmark to help the Bruins to a record-setting 65-win season and claimed the William M. Jennings Trophy in the process. Ullmark had 40 wins while Swayman had 24, making Boston the first team in NHL history with both a 40-win and 20-win goaltender.

F   18   Robert Thomas, STL (1st)
* Thomas is on pace to set career highs for goals and points in a season (he set his current highs with 20-57—77 in 2021-22; 72 GP).

* Thomas is set to make his NHL All-Star Game debut. He grew up in Aurora, Ont., approximately one hour outside Toronto, and played his minor hockey with the York Simcoe Express.

* The Blues had four players skate in the 2000 NHL All-Star Game in Toronto, tied for the most among all clubs (w/ DET, NJD & PHI). Pavol Demitra (2-0—2) and Roman Turek (11 saves) helped the World All-Stars defeat Chris Pronger, Al MacInnis and the North American All-Stars that year. The club went on to win its first Presidents' Trophy that season.

F   7   Brady Tkachuk, OTT (4th)
* This is Tkachuk's fourth consecutive NHL All-Star Game – a first in Senators history and in the Tkachuk family. Overall, Tkachuk is set to become the third Senators player to make at least four NHL All-Star Game appearances at any point, following Daniel Alfredsson (6x) and Erik Karlsson (5x).

* Tkachuk played at the 2020 event in his hometown of St. Louis – where he joined his brother, Matthew (currently a 2x NHL All-Star), and father, Keith (a 5x NHL All-Star), on stage for the first Gatorade NHL Shooting Stars – and took part in 2022 and 2023.

* The Tkachuks are among a group of four father-son combos who each skated in multiple NHL All-Star Games; Gordie (23x) and Mark Howe (4x), Bobby (12x) and Brett Hull (8x), and Bill (2x) and Kevin Dineen (2x) are the others. In 2023, the Tkachuks became the first family to have a father and multiple sons each with more than one NHL All-Star Game appearance.

* Tkachuk scored 12 goals through his first 20 games this season, the most by a Senators player at that stage of a season since Mark Stone had 13 in 2017-18. In 2021-22, Tkachuk became the youngest captain in franchise history.

G   39   Cam Talbot, LAK (2nd)
* Talbot is set to become the fifth goaltender to represent the Kings in an NHL All-Star Game and first since Jonathan Quick made his second appearance in 2016. Quick's first trip to All-Star was in 2012 when he was selected sixth overall by Team Alfredsson in the Player Draft (the second netminder picked behind Tim Thomas, 3rd overall). The other Kings goaltenders to appear in the event did so more than 40 years ago: Rogie Vachon (3x; 1973, 1975 & 1978), Mario Lessard (1981) and Terry Sawchuk (1968).

* Talbot is set to join Sawchuk (1967-68) as the second goaltender to represent the club in an NHL All-Star Game during his first campaign with the club. Skaters Kevin Fiala (2022-23), Wayne Gretzky (1988-89), Marcel Dionne (1975-76) and Terry Harper (1972-73) also were All-Stars in their first season with Los Angeles.

* Talbot, who hails from Caledonia, Ont. (approximately 100 kilometers from Toronto), made his All-Star debut in 2022 at age 34. In doing so, he became the sixth goaltender in League history to appear in the event for the first time at age 34 or older, following Johnny Bower (age 36 in 1961), Manny Legace (age 34 in 2008), Mike Smith (age 34 in 2017), Dwayne Roloson (age 34 in 2004) and Rejean Lemelin (age 34 in 1989).

F   16   Vincent Trocheck, NYR (2nd) – added Jan. 22 as injury replacement
* Trocheck is set to make his second NHL All-Star Game appearance after representing the Panthers in 2017 when he posted 1-3—4 in one 3-on-3 game with Team Atlantic. At the time, his four points were tied for the most by a player in one game under the 3-on-3 format (and have been exceeded by only three players since).

* Trocheck is on pace to set new single-season career highs for assists and points in 2023-24.

* Trocheck skated alongside six other 2024 All-Stars with Team North America at the 2016 World Cup of Hockey in Toronto where he posted 1-0—1 in three games. The other members of that roster expected to be at All-Star:

Auston Matthews, Nathan MacKinnon, Connor McDavid, Morgan Rielly, J.T. Miller and Connor Hellebuyck (Jack Eichel was also on the team and named to the 2024 All-Star Game but will miss the event due to injury).

F   77   Frank Vatrano, ANA (1st)
* Vatrano is set to become the fourth active skater to play for at least four different teams before making his first NHL All-Star Game appearance. The former Bruins, Panthers and Rangers forward is set to follow Jonathan Marchessault (4; CBJ, TBL, FLA & VGK before 2022), David Perron (5; STL, EDM, PIT, ANA & VGK before 2020) and Anthony Duclair (5; NYR, ARI, CHI, OTT & CBJ before 2020). Fellow 2024 All-Star Cam Talbot also did so, tending goal for the Rangers, Oilers, Flyers, Flames and Wild before his first appearance in 2022.

* Vatrano is on pace to set single-season career highs in goals, assists and points, thanks in part to a hot start to 2023-24 when he tallied two hat tricks in his first eight contests. Vatrano became the second player in franchise history to score multiple hat tricks that early in a season.

F   43   Tom Wilson, WSH (2nd)
* Wilson scored 13 seconds into his first NHL All-Star Game in 2022, the fastest goal to start a game under the 3-on-3 format (besting the previous mark of 15 seconds set by Sidney Crosby in the 2019 semifinal) and one second shy of the fastest to start any NHL All-Star Game (0:12 by Rick Nash in 2008).

* A top-20 pick in the 2012 NHL Draft, Wilson is on pace for his fourth career 20-goal season in 2023-24. He has played each of his 11 NHL seasons with the Capitals and was part of their Stanley Cup-winning team six years ago.

* When named to the All-Star Game, Wilson ranked in the 90th percentile or higher in every NHL EDGE skating speed category in 2023-24: top speed (93rd percentile), 22+ mph bursts (94th percentile), 20-22 mph bursts (93rd percentile) and 18-20 mph bursts (90th percentile).

HEAD COACHES

Under the All-Star selection process, the head coach of the team with the highest points percentage (points earned divided by total possible points) in each of the four divisions through games Saturday, Jan. 13 – the halfway point of the regular season – will guide the four All-Star rosters. Those head coaches are noted below.

Jim Montgomery, BOS (2nd)
* Boston (.702) owned the highest points percentage in the Atlantic Division when Montgomery was named to the All-Star Game.

* Montgomery is set to become the fourth Bruins head coach to serve that role in multiple NHL All-Star Games, following Claude Julien (2x; 2008-09 East & 2011-12 Chara), Milt Schmidt (2x; 1957-58 NHL All-Stars & 1958-59 NHL All-Stars) and Lynn Patrick (2x; 1950-51 NHL All-Stars & 1953-54 NHL All-Stars).

Rick Bowness, WPG (1st)

* Bowness, who celebrated his 69th birthday Jan. 25, will serve as head coach at the NHL All-Star Game for the first time in his career. He will become the oldest head coach in All-Star history – the current benchmark was set by Scotty Bowman when he served in that role for the 13th and final time in 2002 at age 68.

* Bowness is the second head coach in Jets/Thrashers history to serve at the All-Star Game, following Paul Maurice in 2019.

Peter Laviolette, NYR (4th)
* New York (.659) owned the highest points percentage in the Metropolitan Division when Laviolette was named to the All-Star Game.

* Laviolette will be making his fourth All-Star Weekend appearance as head coach (also 2011, 2015 & 2018), the most among active head coaches in the League.

* Laviolette is the second Rangers head coach to serve in that role at the NHL All-Star Game. John Tortorella represented New York as a co-head coach in 2012 (one year after Laviolette held the same role while representing the Flyers at his first All-Star Game).

Rick Tocchet, VAN (2nd)
* Vancouver (.709) owned the highest points percentage in the Pacific Division when Tocchet was named to the All-Star Game.

* Tocchet made his All-Star head coaching debut in 2020 when he represented the Coyotes and led the Pacific Division to the $1 million prize.

* Tocchet is the fourth Canucks head coach to serve in that role at the NHL All-Star Game, following Roger Neilson (1983), Marc Crawford (2003) and Alain Vigneault (2011 as co-head coach alongside Peter Laviolette).

* As a player, Tocchet played in the NHL All-Star Game four times – representing the Wales Conference each time, all over a five-season span from 1988-89 to 1992-93. Tocchet notched two points in each of those four contests: he had 0-2—2 in his All-Star debut in 1989, followed up with 1-1—2 in 1990 and 1991 and finished his All-Star playing career with two goals in 1993.

* Tocchet participated in the inaugural Hardest Shot event at Skills in 1990, clocking a pair of 88.0 mph blasts in a competition won by Al Iafrate. In 1993, Tocchet was part of Accuracy Shooting – he went 2-for-10 and watched as Wales Conference teammate Ray Bourque won with the first perfect 4-for-4 score in the event's history.
